

50-day extension accepted

New oil controls set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and President Ford appear ready to hold down oil prices for another 50 days while seeking an elusive agreement on long-term energy policy.

The Senate is voting today on whether to extend through Nov. 15 the oil price controls that expired Sept. 1. That extension is part of a compromise proposed Thursday by Ford and quickly accepted by the Senate Democratic caucus. Following Senate approval, the plan now goes to the House.

Since the price controls expired Sept. 1, U.S. oil companies have not rushed to raise their prices because of the expectation that Congress and the administration would agree to extend them retroactively.

The next step is for Congress to get back to the problem it has been unable to solve since January: how to form an energy program that Ford will accept.

Ford has given no indication that he will back away from his oft-stated position that price controls should be ended to force conservation and reduce imports of foreign oil. And congressional Democrats seem as adamant as ever that controls must be retained so long as foreign oil-producing countries have the power to set prices of U.S. oil at artificially high levels.

But the two sides have agreed to talk. Ford asked to meet the Senate-House conferees, who will begin work next week on hammering out a compromise version of the differing energy bills passed by the two houses.

The first such meeting could come next week. Congressional aides said it is likely the conferees will work out most of the differences between the House and Senate bills before trying to find agreement with the Ford administration.

The Democrats point to the special New Hampshire senatorial election on Sept. 16 as evidence the voters are rejecting Ford's plan of higher energy prices.

In that election, in which energy was a big issue, Democrat John A. Durkin won in a landslide over Republican Louis C. Wyman. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, said Thursday that Ford is having second thoughts about his plan of higher prices because of the election.

Meanwhile, a congressional staff report concluded that the sharply higher oil prices have raised the cost of producing oil and other forms of energy and that domestic production continues to drop.

The report by the energy subcommittee staff of Congress' Joint Economic Committee said the higher oil revenues have been used by oil companies to outbid each other for labor, materials and equipment.

In another development, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the higher oil prices being hammered out by the members of the Organization of Oil Exporting Countries are at least partially the responsibility of Congress because the lawmakers failed to enact Ford's program to help domestic production.

FOUR GROUPS of girls from the Y-Teens and Tri-Hi-Y clubs at Washington Senior High School will be conducting a door-to-door canvass of the Washington C.H. area Monday night soliciting funds for leukemia research.

The group of approximately 50 girls will be canvassing with four advisors from 5:30 until 8:30 p.m.

PLAYERS interested in participating in the second annual Washington C.H. Offside-Point Creek No-Stars benefit football game Saturday, Oct. 4 are requested to meet at the Gardner Park field house at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Community Education program director Hank Shaffer said those who have been contacted about playing, those men who participated in the game a year ago and those who attended a recent organizational meeting should report for Sunday's team meeting.

One fitting Eموff's description was in sight.

Shelterly witnessed these events at almost the same time Eموff's son reportedly received the ransom note, leading to speculation that more than the two men were involved in the disappearance.

According to his employees, Eموff was a man of habit. Robert Nedd, manager of the store where Eموff was last seen, said Eموff would routinely leave the store at 9:15 p.m., 15 minutes before closing.

Nedd said on Tuesday night "there was nothing out of the ordinary whatsoever, and that's what's so shocking."

Store employees remember Eموff leaving Tuesday night, but none could recall seeing him get into his car and drive off. The car was parked in front of the store.

Another employee, Jim Shuler, said he left the store at 9:25 p.m. and saw nothing suspicious.

Nedd said Eموff did not carry money or valuables on his person. He said Eموff's briefcase was filled with only furniture orders.

Full-time judgeship created

A full time judgeship for the Washington C.H. Municipal Court has been created by legislation recently signed into law by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The legislation, House Bill No. 205, created the full-time judgeship and also raised the salaries of full-time and part-time judges. Since the bill contained an emergency clause it went into effect immediately after the signature by the governor.

The reason for the creation of the full-time position is not clear at this time. However, it apparently is the result of the ever-increasing load that is being handled by the Municipal Court.

Both candidates for Municipal Court judge this fall, Washington C.H. attorney Robert L. Simpson and former Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge John Case, said the creation of the full-time position would not have any effect on their candidacy.

A full time judge cannot practice law in the state of Ohio, according to the Ohio Revised Code. This will not affect Case who is not a practicing attorney.

The new law also sets the salary for the full-time judge at $21,000 plus a sum equal to 18 cents for each person in his jurisdiction. This will amount to an annual salary of approximately $25,000 for the Municipal Court judge.

JOHN P. CASE

ROBERT L. SIMPSON

Present salary for Judge Reed M. Winegardner, who was elected as a part-time judge, was increased by the same legislation and now stands at just over $15,000 per year.

The pay of the judge has also caused some confusion. Judge Winegardner claims that since the law is effective immediately that he should receive the pay of a full-time judge for the remainder of his term which expires Dec. 31. However Fayette County prosecuting attorney James A. Kiger is of a different opinion.

Kiger said that, although he had not had an opportunity to thoroughly study the law, he was of the opinion that Judge Winegardner would be paid only as a part-time judge since that was the position he was elected to hold.

Whatever the outcome, the city of Washington will pay 60 per cent of the salary and Fayette County will pay 40 per cent.

Engineering firm details costs

By GEORGE MALEK

One of the major concerns of Washington C.H. residents surrounding the proposed sewer system improvement project is the cost. Considering the fact that the price tag has been estimated at $23.6 million, this concern is certainly justified.

According to the figures presented by C.E. Bird, R.J. Bull, Ltd., the city's consulting engineering firm, the cost to each homeowner would be based on the amount of water consumed.

The total cost of the facility over the next 25 years would be $13,350,000. This figure includes construction of the new treatment plant, operation and maintenance costs for the 25-year period, and interest on $5,900,000 which would have to be supplied locally. The remainder of the cost would be paid by a federal grant and would carry no interest charge.

The consulting engineers have obtained the actual water-use figures for Washington C.H. residents from the Ohio Water Service Co. Based on these figures, they estimate that the average homeowner will have to pay approximately $8.50 per month for sewage.

This cost will vary for each homeowner, however, depending on the amount of water actually used. Since the water company and the sewage billing system would use the same figures, any homeowner may calculate his bill based on present usage. If your water bill was $3.26 at the last mailing, your accompanying sewer bill would have been $3.50. Some other general usages are: water, $5.48 — sewer $6.50; water, $6.59 — sewer, $8; water 8.70 — sewer, $9.50, etc.

The sewer bill would change monthly just as your water bill does now, depending on how much was used during the month.

One estimate submitted by the consulting firm is a projected doubling of the population of Washington C.H. during the next 25 years. Several other knowledgeable persons predict that only limited population growth will occur in this area during that time span.

Critics of the new sewer proposal state that if the population does not increase significantly, the city will be unable to pay for the new sewer and treatment facility.

At the present level of water use by Washington C.H. residents at the suggested payment rate for new sewer services, the community would pay approximately $11,320,000 over 25 years. This is $2,030,000 less than the total cost of construction and operation.

While projecting a population of 30,000 in the year 2000, the consulting firm is also estimating a surplus of $1,467,500 (without interest) during the payment period. While this surplus would not be realized if the population did not reach the 30,000 figure, a population of less than 16,000 is necessary to pay for the project.

If there were no population increase at all in Washington C.H., the sewer bills would have to be only 10 per cent higher than currently estimated to pay for the plant and sewer lines.

Under the proposed plan, the new sewer rates would be imposed on Washington C.H. residents for five years before construction began. This would generate more than $550,000 per year during that period, or $350,000 beyond the operating costs of the plant.

Investing this money each year would result in a balance of approximately $2,200,000 at the end of the five-year period. Thus, a loan of $3,700,000 would be needed to finance the project. The yearly payments on the loan would amount to some $349,200, according to Richard Whiteside, president of the Huntington Bank in Washington C.H. This is the same figure supplied by the consulting firm.

EPA director claims

Present sewer system poses 'health hazard'

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Editor

The city's present sewage treatment system is hazardous to the health of Washington C.H. area residents, city officials have learned.

Ned E. Williams, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency in Columbus, informed Washington C.H. City Council vice chairman Joseph O'Brien this week of the presence and extent of the health hazard caused by an inadequate sewage system.

"There is at present a health hazard to the local residents," Williams said. "With the deposition of solids in the sewers, methane gas and hydrogen sulfide are allowed to generate resulting in the accumulation of an explosive gas and deadly fumes. Permitting the sewage to become septic prior to arriving at the plant precludes the plant from providing satisfactory treatment. As a result, not only does Paint Creek become polluted, but the plant then discharges obnoxious odors to the surrounding neighborhood," Williams said.

"The presence of methane and hydrogen sulfide are in themselves deadly. Anyone coming in contact with Paint Creek during periods of storm overflow discharges or relatively soon afterwards could contact and spread infectious disease," Williams added. "Portions of the present sewer system are on the verge of collapsing. Should this occur on a main trunk line there could be sewage in the streets presenting an intolerable situation."

Williams also explained to city officials requirements to comply with EPA mandates, what has been done by engineers employed by the city, the specific problems that must be corrected, alternatives in solving the problems, the area to be serviced by the proposed system, the question of eliminating odors and penalties which could be imposed for non-compliance with EPA requirements.

EPA mandates

Williams said the city is under previous orders of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board to submit detailed plans for sewage facilities to serve Washington C.H. The present discharge permit, he said, has a rigid compliance schedule leading to the construction of adequate facilities. "The only mandate we are imposing on Washington C.H. is to take the necessary steps to alleviate and prevent further pollution of Paint Creek," the EPA director said.

Engineering projects
C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Ltd., Worthington, the city's consulting engineering firm, has prepared a facilities plan which outlines the most cost effective and environmentally sound solution for the city, according to Williams. "We have concurred with the recommendations and have forwarded the facilities plan to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency," Williams noted. "The plan was on display for public comment and a public hearing was held Jan. 8.

The plan, according to the EPA director, indicates the city needs a completely new sanitary sewer system since the present sewers were not designed for that purpose and are in "such deteriorated shape that it would not be cost effective to fix or repair most of them."

Williams also explained that the sewage treatment plant needs to be

Harrises arraigned

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill and Emily Harris were under around-the-clock observation today in a high-security jail atop the Hall of Justice after arraignment on charges stemming from an alleged crime spree with Patty Hearst.

The two Symbionese Liberation Army members were ordered held on $500,000 bail each Thursday and told to appear in Municipal Court Oct. 8 for a preliminary hearing on 18 felony charges, including assault with intent to commit murder and kidnapping.

They could be sentenced to life imprisonment if convicted.

The Harrises, who arrived separately for the arraignment at the Central Arraignment Courts Building, left together in a heavily guarded sheriff's van for the Hall of Justice. Two helicopters followed the four-car caravan.

They were housed in separate cells in the same cellblock with two SLA comrades, Russell Little and Joseph Remiro.

Woman wins $300,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Although games of chance make her fall asleep, Linda J. Geffert of Barborton was real perky when she won the Ohio Lottery's top prize of $300,000 Thursday night.

"Cards make me fall asleep," the 26-year-old housewife said. "I couldn't believe I'd won. I never win anything."

Mrs. Geffert, a former bank teller, said she plans to use the prize money to buy a house, pay bills and take a trip with her family to California to visit a relative.

Her husband is a heavy equipment

The $300,000 winner was Charles E. Freeman of New Castle, Pa. The $15,000 winners were Earl A. Lindsey of Cleveland; Warren L. Hunley of Dayton; Barbara Rachel of Mansfield and Robert W. Van Sickle of New Philadelphia.

In the Buckeye 300 the winning single number was 394 and the double was 843 911. In the Lucky Buck game the three-digit number was 408 and the six-digit number was 821779. The Lucky Buck jackpot bonus number was 08537.

Dayton man kidnapped, slain

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The body of Dayton businessman Lester C. Eموff, 67, was found today in a wooded area near here, the FBI said.

Eموff, who was believed abducted Tuesday night as he left one of the furniture stores he owns, had been shot in the back, agents said.

The FBI had two suspects in custody and was looking for a third in connection with the incident, said C. Edwin Enright, assistant agent in charge of the FBI for southern Ohio.

Enright declined to comment on whether $400,000 ransom paid by the victim's family had been recovered.

About three hours after Eموff was apparently abducted at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday, his son, Robert, received a ransom note.

According to the FBI, the note contained a threat to dynamite Eموff and his car if the demands were not met.

FBI agents said the ransom was paid at about noon Wednesday, but would not disclose the method of payment.

Members of Eموff's family issued a statement Thursday night saying the kidnapers' instructions were followed exactly and they were "hopeful his release will come soon." They said they did not want to make any further comment "that would jeopardize his safe return."

Eموff's auto, a 1973 gold Cadillac, also disappeared with him but was found Thursday night abandoned in suburban Miamisburg.

One nearby resident said later he had seen two white males in their late 20s leave the car there about midnight Tuesday.

William Shelterly said the men transferred to a white late-model Cadillac and drove off.

Shelterly said the reason he noticed was "I heard this car door slam, and when I went to the window, I saw this one guy wiping off the gold car in the middle of all this rain."

"Then he got something out of the trunk of the gold car and another guy slid out of the passenger side of the gold car and they both got in the other Cadillac and drove off," he said.

He said he could not see the men's faces or the object they took out of the trunk and could not read the license number of the car they left in, but no one fitting Eموff's description was in sight.

Shelterly witnessed these events at almost the same time Eموff's son reportedly received the ransom note, leading to speculation that more than the two men were involved in the disappearance.

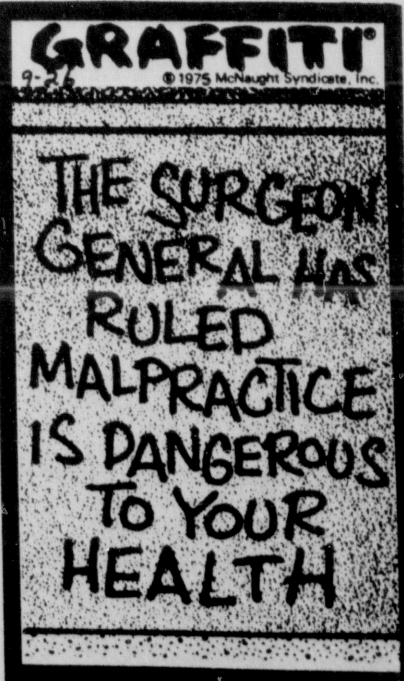

According to his employees, Eموff was a man of habit. Robert Nedd, manager of the store where Eموff was last seen, said Eموff would routinely leave the store at 9:15 p.m., 15 minutes before closing.

Nedd said on Tuesday night "there was nothing out of the ordinary whatsoever, and that's what's so shocking."

Store employees remember Eموff leaving Tuesday night, but none could recall seeing him get into his car and drive off. The car was parked in front of the store.

Another employee, Jim Shuler, said he left the store at 9:25 p.m. and saw nothing suspicious.

Nedd said Eموff did not carry money or valuables on his person. He said Eموff's briefcase was filled with only furniture orders.

Deaths, Funerals

Roy E. Gilmerr

CHILLICOTHE — Services for Roy E. Gilmerr, 80, of 17 W. High St., Frankfort, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Fawcett-Oliver and Glass Funeral Home, Chillicothe, with the Rev. Clair Emerick officiating. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery, Frankfort.

Mr. Gilmerr died at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Ross County Medical Center, Chillicothe, following an extended illness.

Mr. Gilmerr, a farmer on the Austin-Good Hope Rd., for 25 years, was a state highway department employee, a Concord Township trustee for 20 years, 50-year member of the Masonic Lodge, past commander of the Frankfort American Legion, member of the Ross County Democratic Central Committee and its executive committee, a member of the Greenfield Eagles Lodge and Elks Lodge, and trustee and member of the Session, Frankfort United Presbyterian Church.

Surviving is his wife, Bernice M. Voss Gilmerr, whom he married July 19, 1934; a sister, Mrs. Esta Miller of Frankfort; two nieces, Mrs. Maxine Mees of Frankfort and Mrs. Howard Nihiser of Chillicothe; and a nephew, Leo Lightle of Frankfort.

The Frankfort American Legion will conduct graveside services and Masonic services will be conducted at the funeral home at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Saturday.

Donald E. Rolfe

MOUNT STERLING — Donald E. Rolfe, 57, of Orient, died at 4:45 p.m. Thursday at his home.

He is survived by his wife Lucille and a daughter, Mrs. Jean Spring of Harrisburg.

Funeral arrangements will be under the direction of the Porter Funeral Home, Mount Sterling, but are incomplete at this time.

'Squeaky' sets defense

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette Fromme says she will handle most of her own defense on charges of trying to kill President Ford, despite her lack of legal training.

"I'm determining the entire case," the 26-year-old disciple of convicted mass murderer Charles Manson said in an interview from a visitor's cell at the Sacramento County Jail.

She said she expected to do most questioning of witnesses and make the closing argument to the jury.

Miss Fromme faces trial Nov. 4. The charges against her stem from an incident Sept. 5 when witnesses said she pointed a loaded .45-caliber pistol at Ford as he was shaking hands near the state Capitol.

Earlier this week, U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride allowed her to act as her own attorney and named federal public defender E. Richard Walker as co-counsel.

LEGAL NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that The Ohio Bell Telephone Company has filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an Application stating that the Company is entitled, because of the reasons set forth in said Application, to reasonable and equitable increases and adjustments in its rates and charges for exchange telephone service, intrastate message toll telephone service, intrastate mobile telephone service, intrastate private line services and intrastate wide area telecommunications service, and to change the regulations and practices affecting the same, and to revise its Exchange Rate Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 3, its General Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 4, its Message Toll Telephone Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 7, its Mobile Telephone Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 2, its Private Line Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 2, and its Wide Area Telecommunications Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 1, to effect such increases, adjustments and changes, all as more fully set forth in the Application on file with the Commission and in the exhibits attached thereto and made a part thereof.

The proposed revisions will effect increases and adjustments in rates and charges and changes in the regulations and practices affecting the same throughout the territory in which the Company operates.

The prayer of the Application requests the Commission to do the following:

- Approve the proposed rates and charges and changes applied for herein;
- Approve the filing of said proposed schedule sheets contained in Exhibit "B" hereto, modified to reflect such revisions thereof as may become effective pursuant to orders of your Commission, during the interim between the filing of this Application and the date upon which said proposed schedule sheets become effective;
- Establish an effective date for said proposed schedule sheets; and
- Grant such other and further relief as Applicant is reasonably entitled to in the premises.

A copy of the Application, including a copy of the present and proposed schedule sheets, a statement showing the amount of proposed increase or decrease in each changed rate or charge which is not affected by changes in regulations and practices, and a statement describing the proposed changes in regulations and practices affecting rates and charges, may be inspected by any interested party at the office of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, and at any public business office of the Company.

This matter is scheduled for public hearing beginning on Tuesday, October 21, 1975, at 9:30 A.M., at the office of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio.

The form of this notice has been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Say agent handled Moore gun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A gun collector says an undercover federal firearms agent unwittingly examined the gun Sara Jane Moore bought and, a day later, shot at President Ford.

"The man handled several guns in my attic case," collector Mark Fernwood said Thursday. "I'm almost certain he handled the one she shot at the President. I know he saw it."

Law enforcement sources said Mrs. Moore drove the unidentified agent to Fernwood's Danville home Sunday after she had given police and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) information about possible federal gun control law violations.

"On Sunday, about 12 noon, she and a man named Chuck came over in her car," Fernwood recalled Thursday. "They came out to look at guns. She wanted to pay me for a pistol she bought two weeks ago and wrote me out a check. He expressed an interest in buying some guns and I showed him my collection."

The federal sources said the ATF agent observed Mrs. Moore write Fernwood a $125 check for a .44-caliber revolver which she purchased two weeks earlier. That gun was seized by San Francisco police later Sunday, after she hinted to police about her assassination plans.

But Mrs. Moore replaced it with a .38-caliber revolver purchased from Fernwood on Monday, then shot at the President outside a downtown San Francisco hotel.

Fernwood said that at the time he had no inkling "Chuck" — described as a clean-cut, "nondescript" man in his early 30's — was an agent, but noticed that Mrs. Moore and her companion showed little rapport.

"He might have asked a few questions about my collection, but not too many," said the balding 26-year-old antique weapons collector. "But there was nothing in the questions to indicate that he was investigating anything. He seemed to be just tagging along."

The unidentified agent and Mrs. Moore were shown part of Fernwood's weapons collection, including a briefcase containing several handguns for sale, then left a short time later.

The ATF was hoping to buy guns from Fernwood at a later date for possible use in an investigation, the sources said.

"Evidently she was a worker for the ATF and working on my case," Fernwood said. "They are trying to develop a case against me and Sara Jane was working for them."

"But there's no reason for them to investigate me. I've always obeyed the gun laws," declared Fernwood, who says he collects guns as a hobby and mainly sells percussion pistol kits.

"We have no comment," W.H. McConnell, assistant to the ATF director, said in Washington. "It's an open investigation and we're not acknowledging any data printed so far, other than the fact that we had contact with Mrs. Moore."

Water use

have been estimated at $225,000 per year. Taking into account the inflation of salaries over 20 years and the increased maintenance of 20-year-old equipment, the operating costs for the year 2000 are projected at $438,000. All of this cost is included in the $13,350 total estimate.

One point which seems to be often overlooked by area residents is the increase in sewer rates which can be anticipated if this project is not undertaken. The city is presently under order to operate the treatment plant on a 24-hour per day basis, which has not been done. Several tests required regularly by the government are not being completed.

Simply to bring the present system into compliance with present government restrictions would cost a considerable amount. And these would not offer a solution to the pollution problem.

Bird and Bull have investigated a wide range of alternatives which might solve the city's pollution problems, but they have concluded that the proposed route is the least expensive. Failure of the city to take any action could result in a complete building ban and possible fines until such time as something is done to correct the situation.

One of the alternative plans submitted by the consulting firm could be implemented for a few million dollars less. However, the annual operating costs would be nearly double the cost of operating the proposed system.

Since the federal government will pay 75 per cent of the initial cost but none of the operating cost, this plan appears to be the least expensive for local residents.

OHIO LAW empowers the City Council to enter into the contracts necessary for construction of the system and has the right to bill residents for usage, the consulting firm stated. They said they had been in contact with state officials before rendering an answer.

Area residents had questioned whether or not the plan could be implemented without a popular vote of the community.

If Council approves Phase II of the project, the consulting firm will begin drawing detailed plans of the facility and sewer system. These detailed drawings will eventually be submitted to contractors for bids so that an exact cost figure may be obtained.

In order to finance the second phase and begin building a surplus for actual construction, it appears likely that the new sewer rates will become effective early in 1976.

Council members are meeting Friday night, Saturday morning and again Monday night to approve the contracts for Phase II before the Oct. 1 deadline set by the federal government.

As yet no state funding for the project has been found available and federal funds cannot be used to match any part of a federal grant. Thus, it appears that local residents will bear the entire $5,900,000 of city's share of the project.

However, several sources have indicated that sewer projects may soon be removed from the list of programs funded by federal grants. Without federal assistance the entire cost of a sewage improvement project might fall on local homeowners, and something must be done soon if Washington C.H. is to bring pollution of Paint Creek to a halt.

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today while Wall Street continued to await a decision by oil-exporting countries on their pricing plans.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off .07 at 820.17. But gainers held a 4-3 lead over losers in quiet trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the market drew some mild encouragement from the news that the United States posted its fourth largest trade surplus on record in August, with exports outpacing imports by $1.04 billion. It was the nation's seventh monthly surplus in a row.

International Harvester was the Big Board volume leader, down 3/4 at 24 1/4. A 146,400-share block traded at 24.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained .24 to 45.68.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks was up .24 at 45.68.

No indictment against Stebbins

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Franklin County Grand Jury Thursday took no action against the chairman of the Ohio Industrial Commission over a commission payment that led to the purchase of a house the chairman used to own.

Franklin County Prosecutor George C. Smith said the grand jury took no action because of insufficient evidence that a crime had been committed by Chairman Gregory J. Stebbins in the $20,000 payment.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On Sept. 5, CBS aired a 90-minute special on hunting. It included scenes of bears being shot near a town dump, ludicrous "shooting" preserves and a badly-botched killing of a deer.

Called "The Guns of Autumn," it caused massive protest, mainly from hunters who in thousands of calls and letters called it biased and said it showed only "slob hunters," not the average hunter.

This Sunday, some Maine hunters, filmed as they watched the show, get in their angry words about it as part of a 60-minute CBS follow-up program called "Echoes of the Guns of Autumn."

This show, reported by Charles Collingwood, examines reactions to and issues raised by "Guns." Work on it began even before the first show was finished and on the air.

"Echoes" is a fascinating effort, if only because it excellently illustrates how television can generate such tremendous emotion — and preshow and postshow protests — by taking on a true controversy.

The show reflects the outrage — and the minority views — in various ways, through hunters, letters, the taped calls of viewers and in the reactions of a group of men, ranging from a Humane Society official to a National Rifle Association executive, who saw "Guns" at KSLTV in Salt Lake City, Utah, before it aired nationally.

The viewpoints, while predictable, still are engrossing, as are the various other thoughts on such things as "the hunting ethic" and game management as expressed by opposing force on the show.

For me, the most interesting part of "Echoes" is its report on protest campaigns by individuals and groups, and its candor — for TV — in

made by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Natural Resources Department has announced it is laying off another 150 employees Oct. 11, bringing to 560 the number of layoffs announced by the agency in the past month.

naming the eight advertisers who fled "Guns."

Collingwood, however, takes pains to make clear that only one company, Comb Chemical Co., pulled its three scheduled commercials as a direct result of a complaining preshow call, that one from the Denver, Col., branch of a group called Safari Club International.

Only one scheduled sponsor, Block Drug Co., stayed in. It refused requests from gun clubs and groups whom it didn't name to yank its ads. It said to do so would mean it was trying to be a censor.

"Echoes" probably won't change any views about hunting, but one part of it more than suggests that some folks angered by "Guns" didn't quite look before they fired, so to speak.

The show says that angry viewers in at least "12 major cities" (the number of viewers isn't specified) told the United Fund they won't contribute this year because a UF announcement appeared during "Guns."

They thought UF bought time on the show. It hadn't. CBS aired the announcement free as a public service message CBS alone had scheduled.

Opinion And Comment

Women share the blame

A Gallup Poll shows that a large majority of Americans approve of women in politics. Almost three-fourths of them say they would vote for a qualified woman as president. This is particularly interesting because it is so much out of harmony with the actual state of political affairs. More than half a century after the women's suffrage amendment and several years into the women's liberation movement, women still play a distinctly secondary role in politics. This is not wholly the fault of women; they are handicapped by society's prevalent male orientation. Women must accept a share of the blame, though. Few of them have been as venturesome in the political area as they must be if women are to take their rightful place in American politics.

THESE DAYS.... By John Chamberlain

Why do we undermine the CIA?

So it's front-page news when the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence hears testimony that the Central Intelligence Agency sent some poison to Africa in 1961 for an assassination attempt on Patrice Lumumba, whose possible return to power in the Congo would have constituted a Communist victory.

Okay, the use of poison can hardly be morally justified as a tool of democracy even in extremity. But the plan to kill Lumumba was somehow aborted, which tells us something about the working of checks and balances even in the midst of Cold War operations. We ended by poisoning nobody.

The discouraging thing about our present national crusade to skewer the intelligence agencies that were doing the best they could to fight the spread of Communism in the '60s is its utter lack of balance. Actually, the sins of the CIA, the FBI and other intelligence agencies have been a piddling lot of minor peccadilloes. A few wires tapped, a few letters opened, and some guns sent to the Dominican Republic for use against Trujillo.

Someone in the CIA failed to get rid of a couple of poisons when Nixon issued an order to have a biochemical warfare agents destroyed. It could have been a semantic error: After all, are poisons based on shellfish toxins and cobra venom "biochemical"? They are "bio," all right, but the man responsible for keeping them, assuming that he was anything more than negligent, could have been mixed up about the scope of the Presidential order.

Even assuming the worst of motives

on the part of an isolated individual or two in the CIA, why do we glory in hurting the entire intelligence community at a time in which the Communists, far from drawing in their horns, are doing their best to revive Allendeism for Chile and to kill off any democratic hopes for our NATO allies in Portugal?

As Charles W. Wiley, the embattled Executive Director of that estimable organization known as the National Committee for Responsible Patriotism, put it, "While we proceed to destroy our intelligence capability in the name of preserving freedom and privacy, we are rapidly losing both. Across the world, many think we're either adults gone mad or Disneyland disguised as a real country."

We are, as Wiley says, vulnerable to "terrorists, kidnapers, sky-jackers, spies, organized crime and other anti-social forces" (i.e., the Mansoniites, etc.); and "hampering legitimate intelligence gathering is a far greater menace to freedom and privacy than the activities themselves." Millions of Americans can't even enter a public building without signing in and out, and nobody can take an attache case aboard a plane without having it X-rayed or searched. Airport security taxes now cost us billions of dollars.

Just to prove something to himself about the one-sidedness of our attitude toward "us" (the U.S. intelligence agencies) and "them" (the "dirty tricks" operatives who work for the Soviet KGB or for the Maoists or Peking), Wiley staged a press conference the other day. He had come across a United Press International story from the Philippines under a Manila dateline for 1969. As far as can be determined, the story ran only in the Philippines.

Under the by-line of Vicente Maliwanag, it recounted the gist of an interview with President Ferdinand E. Marcos about a "Communist Chinese general" who had slipped into the Philippines in 1966 and "plotted to assassinate President Johnson, former Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, and (Marcos) himself."

Marcos said the plot was part of an elaborate plan of local Communist intellectuals and armed Huk dissidents who aimed at taking over the Philippine government. The plot came to nothing, even as the CIA plot to poison Lumumba came to nothing.

But in the contest of "nothings" why is a disclosure about the CIA worth that front-page fanfare in the New York Times while a similar disclosure about a Red Chinese plot to kill Lyndon Johnson gets practically no play at all? If we are going to investigate the use of political assassination as an instrument of government policy, why not extend the scope of the investigation to include our enemies have been doing?

Mr. Wiley wants to know. He is the sort of person who thinks there is a difference, after all, between a Nathan Hale and a Benedict Arnold, both of whom, technically speaking, were "spies."

With secret operatives are being judged, it is important to know who is working for whom.

Therapists face license rules

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An estimated 2,000 speech and hearing therapists are being given until Jan. 1 to become licensed by the state under a law that became effective today.

Legislative sponsors, including Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze Jr., D-25 Cleveland, said the law brings under state control one of the last major segments of health care not already licensed.

In particular, the bill establishes within 90 days a new State Board of Speech Pathology and Audiology to license speech pathologists and audiologists, even those who treat problems free of charge, if any exist.

Celebrezze and others cited no great problems of abuse in urging the bill's approval, but argued instead that it was needed as a safeguard in an area that could be open to abuse among practitioners not otherwise required to have adequate medical knowledge and experience.

George Compson, chief of the legal division of the Ohio Department of Health, said although the department didn't request the legislation, he felt it could be valuable because many children are among those affected by speech and hearing impediments.

The fees include $50 (nonrefundable) for an examination and $100 for an initial license. Annual renewals of licenses will cost $50. The newly created board will operate exclusively on fees it collects. They are estimated at $225,000 the first year and $125,000 annually thereafter.

In addition to passage of a written examination by the board, applicants must have completed a "broad general education," must have had 60 semester hours of special education in human communication disorders, 300 clock hours of supervised clinical experience approved by the board, and nine months of professional clinical experience in the special areas of speech pathology or audiology.

The bill's "grandfather clause" exempts from the written test and educational requirements those persons already practicing, including those who have at least a bachelor's degree in the field or who have been employed therein for at least nine months within the previous three years.

Gov. James A. Rhodes is to name the five-member board within the next 90 days. It will include two pathologists, two audiologists, and one member of the general public. They will receive $15 a day plus expenses for meetings that must be held at least once a year. The board's staff will operate on a full time basis.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

planter's indiscretion

DEAR ABBY: Re: the infuriating letter from SEEN IT ALL may I inquire whether SHE chooses her work clothing to please her neighbors? Why does she expect the pansy planter to kowtow to her prudery? If "Pansy Planter" wished to plant her garden in the nude, why should it affect your priggish letterwriter and her apparently humorless family? Let them erect a wall around their patio if they can't stand the view.

"LIVE AND LET LIVE"

DEAR LIVE: For another view, please read on:

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed SEEN IT ALL complained about a 68-year-old neighbor lady who displayed her uncovered rear end to the entire neighborhood while planting pansies.

Your reply was too mild. I would have told the offended neighbor to take a good clear color photo of the pansy planter using a zoom lens, have it enlarged, and send it to her with the following note:

"A guest took this while HE was visiting us."

WICHITA, KANSAS

DEAR WICH: You topped me. That should be the end of it.

DEAR ABBY: I am unmarried and my father is a widower. (we share a house.)

I find it most irritating after cooking a hot dinner to have to compete with a newspaper every time I put a hot plate of food in front of my father.

He always has a newspaper propped up against his water glass because he likes to eat his dinner and read at the same time.

I think this is very inconsiderate! After all, I would like a little company while I am having my dinner, but this doesn't seem to occur to him. This has been going on for years, and I am very annoyed at this point.

My father is 80. I'll bet you are going to tell me that nothing can be done to change him at his age, but age is no excuse for rudeness.

WHAT TO DO?

DEAR WHAT: I don't know how many other pleasures your father has at age 80, but I'll wager they are few. It would be easier for you to adjust to his "habit" than for him to change it. If you haven't mentioned your irritation, do so. He just might be more flexible than you are.

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating an attractive divorcee I'll call "Mary" for about six months. I date no other woman, but I have made no commitments to Mary, either.

For my birthday last month, she gave me an expensive gold I.D. bracelet, engraved, "Hands off! I belong to Mary."

I pretended to be delighted with this gift, and have worn it a few times just to please her, but I've quit wearing it because the idea of being labeled somebody's private property turns me off.

Mary keeps asking me why I'm not wearing the bracelet. I keep telling her I "forgot" it. I hate to lie, but I don't want to hurt her feelings. What should I do? Sign this...

"I BELONG TO ME"

DEAR "I": Level with her. Tell her you appreciate the "thought", but don't want to wear a sign declaring that you "Belong" to anyone. Because you don't.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Sept. 26, the 269th day of 1975. There are 96 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1777, British troops occupied Philadelphia in the American Revolution.

On this date—
In 1809, Turkey was defeated by the Russians at the Battle of Brailoff in Russia.

In 1815, the Holy Alliance was formed by Russia, Austria and Prussia.

In 1907, New Zealand became a self-governing Dominion within the British Commonwealth.

In 1915, the U.S. Federal Trade Commission was established.

In 1918, in World War I, the Allies launched an offensive that broke the Germans' Hindenburg Line.

In 1919, President Woodrow Wilson collapsed aboard his private train after making 40 speeches on behalf of the Treaty of Versailles.

Ten years ago: Former President Juan Bosch returned to the Dominican Republic from exile in Puerto Rico, and his homecoming was marred by shooting outbreaks.

Five years ago: King Hussein of Jordan named a new government to placate critics who had accused him of plotting to liquidate the Palestinian guerrillas in his country.

One year ago: It was reported that a Soviet destroyer of the type armed with guided missiles had exploded and sunk in the Black Sea.

Today's birthday: Pope Paul the Sixth is 78 years old.

Thought for today: There is no grief which time does not lessen and soften — Cicero, Roman scholar, 106-43 B.C.

Bicentennial Footnote: Two-hundred years ago today, the Continental Congress defeated a motion that General Washington discharge all blacks in his army.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Some awkward situations can now be worked on successfully; an opponent made an ally. Adroit thinking is the answer — plus a shrewd bit of diplomacy.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Avoid the illogical and close your eyes to the dubious schemes of others — no matter how attractively they may be presented. Let your head rule your heart.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Employ the techniques successfully used in prior efforts. But do not hesitate to update plans and vitalize your approach. Tact in personal affairs!

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Reflexes, intuition and business acumen should be keen now. Especially favored under today's influences:

Church honors senior members, schedules family hiking trip

Sunday, the congregation of First Presbyterian Church will be honoring the members of the congregation who have been members for at least 50 years.

Several in this category will not be able to attend the service because of health, but plans are being made to have those not attending presented with tokens not attending presented with tokens of recognition and presented with a flower from the congregation, and a group picture will be taken in the sanctuary after the worship service.

There are 63 members of the church who have been members for 50 years or longer, with 3 of them having been members for 75 years or more.

Deacons of the church will assist the pastor in the presentation of the members, and in distributing flowers to shut-ins who cannot attend. Those who have given many years of their life to the church will also assist the pastor during the worship hour in reading Scriptures and leading in the prayers.

This service has come about by the suggestion of several older members of the congregation who requested to take part in the services.

The youth of the church take part each quarter with a complete worship service and participate in the worship on the last Sunday of each month.

Members of the church are invited to come along on a family hike Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 8 p.m. Families will meet at the church and go to Pike Lake for the afternoon and evening.

There they will cook their evening meal around the campfire at the lake, and hold a brief vesper service.

It is anticipated that the church bus will be used to help transport some of those going.

Those attending are asked to take hog dogs and buns - the rest of the meal will be furnished.

All sizes and ages are invited, and are urged to wear warm hiking clothes.

This is an annual event of the church sponsored by the Christian Education Council and Youth Council of the church.

Last Sunday the congregation honored the members of their winning softball team. The team had begun play in June, and at the end of the season, they had won 15 games and lost three.

A trophy with the team name on it will be presented soon and placed on display.

In the Church Softball League this year there were 10 teams, representing various congregations of Fayette County.

Gregg Street Church welcomes new pastor

The Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union has welcomed a new pastor and two staff members.

The Rev. Stan Toler has succeeded the Rev. Robert Kline as church pastor. Rev. Kline is now working in the Church of Christ in Christian Union main office in Circleville.

Rev. Toler has been in the ministry nearly 10 years and has served pastorates in Newark, Lancaster and Tampa, Fla. He holds a Bachelor of Theology degree from Circleville Bible College and a Master of Theology degree from Florida Beacon Seminary.

Rev. Toler's brother Terry will serve in the Bus Ministry at the Gregg Street Church. He has been in Christian service for some time singing in various groups and playing the piano. He and Terry Miller, new Christian education director and choir director, also attended Circleville Bible College.

Miller served in music and Christian education in Parkersburg, W. Va., and Tampa, Fla., before joining the church here. He is presently completing work for a degree.

The new staff members and their families are eager to serve the Washington C.H. community and may be contacted through the church office at 335-1079.

Leukemia benefit scheduled

A gospel sing for the benefit of the Leukemia Society of America has been scheduled Saturday night at the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Headlining the program which begins at 7:30 p.m. are the Carters, the Stritenbergers, the Adams Family and the Golden Hopes.

There will be no admission charge, but a freewill offering will be taken. All proceeds will be given to the Leukemia Society of America.

Speaking at the missionary service Wednesday night was Gary Thompson, a Washington High School graduate who served for nine weeks this summer on the Islands of Trinidad, Barbados, Antigua and Dominica.

A former assistant pastor at the local church, Thompson will graduate this year from Circleville Bible College with a Bachelor of Theology degree.

He is the son of Mrs. Heber Shields, 1025 Dayton Ave.

End of world to be discussed

Discussion groups regarding the unfolding events of the world today and their relationship to the end of time and the return of Jesus have been held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene VanPelt, 210 E. Elm St., Sabina, throughout the month of September.

Monday and Tuesday are the last two days on which interested persons may join in the discussions. Groups will meet at 2 p.m. Monday and 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The basis for the discussions are a sermon recently presented at a camp meeting in Jackson, Ky., by Dr. M.J. Wood of Americus, Ga., a Wesleyan pastor and evangelist who has studied prophecy for the past 38 years.

BPW Club meeting is held at Washington Country Club

The Washington C.H. Business and Professional Women's Club held its September meeting Tuesday evening at the Washington Country Club. There were 65 members and four guests present.

Mrs. Nathan Bolton, president, called the meeting to order and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Betty Johnson, and Mrs. Robert Goldsberry gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Ivan Kelley read the club's correspondence.

Standing reports were presented by Mrs. Regina DelPonte, personal development chairman; who introduced the two "Girls-of-the-Month" from Washington Senior High School - Karen Easterday, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Easterday, a senior. Her school activities include Drill Team captain, American Field Service program, Y-Teens, Tri-Hi-Y, French Club, Sunburst Staff, and National Honor Society.

Also introduced was Julie Looker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Looker also a senior. Her activities include cheerleading, Sunburst editor, Y-Teens, AFS, French Club, National Honor Society, choir and Tri-Hi-Y.

Mrs. Alfred Coe, civic participation chairman, then reported on activities for the month of October, the month in which National Business club Week will be observed.

The Bicentennial Ball is planned for Oct. 11 from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at Mahan Hall. The next club meeting will be Oct. 21 at the Washington Country Club. On Oct. 22 and Oct. 24, Club members will have lunch together at the Washington Inn and Oct. 26 will attend church as a group at First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Maynard Joseph, membership chairman, reported that Mrs. James (Anna) Lawrence was voted as a new member.

The meeting was planned by the finance committee with Mrs. Harold Cruea and Mrs. Jack Sanders as co-chairmen.

Guests present were Mrs. Robert A. (Sally) Smith of Washington C.H., and Miss Margaret Ross of Leesburg, and the two girls-of-the-month.

Members of the finance committee are Mrs. Homer Bireley, Mrs. Mary Lou Christman, Mrs. Robert Heath, Mrs. Charles Hughes, Mrs. John Kelly, Mrs. Mark King, Mrs. Charles Lindsey, Mrs. Smith Mace, Mrs. Sam Marting, Mrs. Loreah O'Brian, Mrs. Demetrios Palaskis, Mrs. Fred Shoop, Miss Dorothy Short and Miss Mary Frances Snider.

Maple Grove Women elect new officers

New officers were announced by the Maple Grove United Methodist Women when they met in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Chaplin Wednesday. Time during the day was spent knotting comforts, following the potluck dinner at noon. The Rev. Russell gave the invocation, and Mrs. Chaplin conducted the business session. Members answered roll call by naming her favorite subject in school.

Members voted to enter the reading program and to purchase the two required books, also to keep the pledge the same amount for next year, and an invitation to attend "Parish Day" Oct. 21 at Good Hope United Methodist Church, was read.

The nominating committee composed of Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Harold Craven and Mrs. Carey Daugherty announced the following new officers: President, Mrs. Neil Rowland; vice president, Mrs. Chaplin; secretary, Mrs. Lodie Eckle; and treasurer, Mrs. Marion Dawson. Coordinators of Missionary Education - Mrs. Rowland; Spiritual Life - Mrs. Harold Craven; Membership - Mrs. Oattie Huff; and Christian Social Relations - Mrs. John Louis; local church activities - Mrs. Clyde Carman and Mrs. Carey Daugherty; cards - Mrs. John Rowland; and all new officers will be installed at the November meeting. They will take office Jan. 1, 1976.

Members made plans to begin their annual project of making mince meat in October.

Mrs. Harold Craven presented devotions by reading from the Book of Acts, then compared this to the storm tossed world.

Mrs. Dawson read an article written by Johnny Jones, about an Arab boy from Africa. Mrs. Neil Rowland closed the meeting with a prayer for missionaries having birthdays in September.

Those present were Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Eckle, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Clyde Carman, Mrs. Earl Russell, Mrs. Neil Rowland, Mrs. Louis, Mrs. Craven and the hostess.

Mrs. Louis explained the poster which was a picture of Colonel Bottomly of the USAF, and told of his conversion.

The worship table held a picture of the Last Supper with the bread and wine representing communion, and a white candle in a brass holder with the Lily of the Valley encircled the base. The Bible was open to the Book of St. Matthew.

CCL has outing

A crackling bonfire was the setting for the first meeting of Grades to Grads Child Conservation League, when the Dale Ritenour family of near Jeffersonville was hosts to the league and their families with a wiener roast.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Claude Keim, when coming events were discussed.

Mrs. Charles Cline was welcomed back as a member, and also elected as a member was Mrs. John Frazier.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ray Bentley. The Rev. Mr. Richard Rector of the Jamestown Friends Church will be the speaker.

To cut butter cleanly, cover knife blade with wax paper.

MISS DONNA SWIGERT

Miss Swigert, Mr. Watson are engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Swigert of Jamestown, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna, to Donald Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Watson of 5509 Palmer Rd.

Miss Swigert, a 1975 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is employed in the office of Dr. Shaw and Hancock.

Her fiancé, a 1970 MTHS graduate, is an employee of Avoset.

The wedding is being planned for Dec. 12.

Women of Moose

Mrs. Jean Rayburn opened the meeting of the Women of the Moose when members met in the Moose Lodge Hall. There were 16 members present, and the charter was draped for the late Mrs. Marie Hizer.

Mrs. Helen Reid, recorder, reported on the business session and Mrs. Martha Meyers, chaplain, was in charge of the closing.

Mrs. Rosalind Creed won the door prize and the next meeting is planned for Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. at the Lodge Hall.

Association meets

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church held its fall meeting at the church on Thursday with Circle II as hostesses. The meeting was opened with the singing of "In Christ There Is No East or West."

The business meeting was led by the president, Mrs. Harvey Heironimus. The Area Workshop, to be at Greenfield on October 15th, was announced and reservations are to be made by October 10th.

The program was a filmstrip called "Well, Here I Am, Women in Mission - Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow." Refreshments were served from a tea table.

ANNE GRIMES

Club schedules folksinger

The observance of the Bicentennial anniversary of the United States will be the featured event of the Browning Club at its 81st opening at the musical-tea at First Presbyterian Church Sunday, Oct. 5, at 2:30 p.m.

Originally the place for the meeting was scheduled in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Case, but because of the interest of many people, it was necessary to change to the church, so more guests for the program could attend. Any interested persons is welcome.

Mrs. Frank Mayo, program chairman, has announced that Anne Lylin Grimes of Granville, master reviewer of the dulcimer and folksinger, will present a lecture-recital of Ohio folklore.

Mary Richter Snyder of Washington C.H., distinguished pianist will play master pieces by American composers which illustrate piano music in American culture.

Mrs. John P. Case will illustrate patriotic American music in organ numbers.

Mrs. Doan guest of honor

Mrs. Marie Doan was honor guest a birthday party recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minshall in New Holland. Those present were Mrs. Tom Henry and children, Chip, Danny, Kevin and Lisa and Tommy and Donald Schweitzer of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pitzer and daughter, Pam, and Miss Mary Jo Blouse of Jeffersonville; Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Minshall and children Mindy and Jeff of Good Hope; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith and children Dane and Derek, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dickey, all of Clarksburg; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hurles and son, Pat, and Mrs. Carolyn Hurles and son Kyle

'Guest Night' observed by Progressive Heirs

"Guest Night" was observed by Progressive Heirs Child Conservation League, when members and their guests enjoyed a dinner and show at the La Comedia Dinner Theater at Springboro, where they saw the show "Play it Again Sam," written by the very funny comedian Woody Allen.

Enjoying the evening were Mrs. Fred Doyle, Mrs. William Straley, Mrs. Morrison Gilbert and daughter, Demise, Mrs. Gordon McCarty, Mrs. Keith Higgins, Mrs. Steve Huffman, Mrs. Roger Spahr, Mrs. Harold Anderson and daughter, Lisa, Mrs. Lucinda Slager, Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Betty Long, Mrs. Heather Parker, Mrs. Norman Wissinger, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hinkley and Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Merritt.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 1, in the home of Mrs. Fred Doyle in Jeffersonville with the Rev. Crabtree of the Jeffersonville Church of Christ as guest speaker.

White Oak Grove schedules speaker

Mrs. Robert Zimmerman of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church will be guest speaker when the Women's Society of the White Oak Grove United Methodist Church meets at the White Oak Grove Church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. A dessert smorgasbord will also be a feature.

Sent by the Methodist Church World Wide Convocation of Evangelism, Mrs. Zimmerman will tell of her trip to Jerusalem.

Patty still ardent revolutionary?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A private conversation recorded by authorities reveals Patricia Hearst as a still-ardent "revolutionary feminist" seeking freedom on bail, but not if "I'm a prisoner in my parents' home."

The transcript of the jailhouse conversation with childhood friend

Patricia Tobin was made public Thursday. It left Patty's parents apparently shaken.

Her mother, Catherine, usually composed, called newsmen "a bunch of ghouls" as they sought comment on the excerpted transcript. And Mrs. Hearst and her husband, Randolph A. Hearst, cut short a jail visit with Miss Hearst Thursday night.

The conversation, recorded last Saturday at the San Mateo County jail, opens with Miss Hearst declaring: "I'm not making any statements until I know that I can get out of, you know, bail ... bailed out, and then if I find out that I can't, for sure, then I'll issue a statement."

"But I would just as soon give it myself in person and it'll be a revolutionary feminist perspective totally, and you know I never got ... I guess I'll just tell you, like, my politics are real different, from way back when."

Miss Hearst laughed and then added: "And so this creates all kind of problems for me in terms of a defense."

Miss Hearst already faces a variety of state and federal charges including bank robbery and kidnapping.

As the partial transcript of the conversation was released in court documents, police said they are checking weapons seized when Miss Hearst was arrested to see if they were used in a double murder that left a radical prison reform leader dead.

Wilbert "Popeye" Jackson and a Vallejo teacher were shot to death June 8 with a 9mm pistol, similar to ones found in apartments where authorities say Miss Hearst and her comrades were living.

The conversation with Miss Tobin was detailed in documents sent to a court-appointed panel of psychiatrists charged with examining Miss Hearst's mental competency by U.S. District Court Judge Oliver Carter.

The transcript was provided the court by U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. It varies from the view of Miss Hearst contained in her affidavit filed earlier this week.

The conversation was recorded as Patty and her friend talked over a closed circuit telephone line at the jail in Redwood City as they were separated by a glass panel.

Miss Hearst's jailers said they routinely record conversations involving inmates as a security measure. Carter declined comment on the use of the tape as evidence, saying the only issue he has to decide now is Miss Hearst's mental competency.

When Miss Tobin asked her if she wanted to go home, Patty replied: "Well, what I want to do is ... I don't want to have the bail thing where I am a prisoner in my parents' home, which is possible."

The transcript submitted to the judge by Browning contained only excerpts of a longer transcript, which was not revealed in its entirety. Some passages were difficult to decipher because of apparent gaps, or pauses, in the conversation.

Plane sought by air searchers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A beefed-up search crew, including some 25 planes and nine helicopters, intensified a search today for a light plane missing since Wednesday.

In addition, elements of the Indiana and Ohio wings of the Civil Air Patrol were called into the search, although a CAP spokesman here said that they would concentrate mainly in their own states.

Poor weather has hampered previous search efforts for the light plane, which was last seen Wednesday when it stopped for fuel in Henderson.

Officials said the plane was piloted by an electrical contractor from Morganfield, Sam Tommons, who had filed a flight plan for a trip to Pikeville.

See no role for Nixon

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Republican party national chairwoman says she envisions no role for former President Richard Nixon at next year's national party convention— probably not even use of his picture for display.

Mary Louise Smith, the chairwoman, said here Thursday that she doesn't have any plans to use Nixon's picture as part of the convention displays in Kansas City.

Speaking at a woman's club, Smith added that she is convinced former California Gov. Ronald Reagan will run for the party's presidential nomination against President Ford but that Ford will win easily.

Transcript shows 2 sides to Patty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patty Hearst, an enigma in her absence, has become a more perplexing mystery since her capture.

Urged by a judge to speak out in court, she declines. Her attorneys speak for her in the third person, calling her fragile and half-mad.

Patty's only direct statements since her arrest come through controversial government eavesdropping. They indicate that her revolutionary alter-ego, "Tania," lives.

"I'll issue a statement," she says in the jail transcript released Thursday. "But I would just as soon give it myself in person, and it'll be a revolutionary feminist perspective totally."

Two days after that conversation with a girlhood friend, Patty Hearst initialed every page of a sworn statement telling of terror and torture at the hands of the Symbionese Liberation Army, repudiating the SLA members she once claimed as comrades.

The first weeks after her Feb. 4, 1974, kidnaping so traumatized her that she has lost all memory of the succeeding 17 months, the attorneys said.

"She was in a constant case of fear and terror, and expected at any minute to be murdered by her captors," the document relates.

Oddly, the sworn affidavit never quoted Patty in the first person. Throughout the document, the attorneys refer to "she." An affidavit, considered to be a defendant's sworn testimony, usually is written in the person "I."

It leaves many questions unanswered. But so does the elliptical jail transcript. Released in choppy excerpts, the transcript is punctuated to indicate that portions have been deleted or were indecipherable on tape.

For instance, talking about her parents and her changed political views, Patty is quoted in the transcript as saying, "Then that, like, they should like disregard all those last I don't mean disregard 'em I mean it's like that was a stage kind of thing, you know."

What is missing from that statement and others?

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr., who provided the transcript to U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter, wasn't available for comment when it was released by the judge. Patty's attorneys did not return calls requesting their comments.

The tape, however, provides Patty's first recorded words since her last famous message from the underground June 7, 1974. The language in both is peppered with profanity.

Asked by her friend, Miss Tobin, how she felt about being captured, Miss Hearst replies: "I was so pissed off, God damn it."

Miss Hearst is being held without bail pending a ruling on her mental competence to be cross-examined about the facts of her sworn affidavit. Her attorneys used the document to argue that she is not a flight risk and should be released on bail. They said that all that Miss Hearst wants is to go home to stay with her parents, Randolph A. and Catherine Hearst.

In the jail tape, Miss Hearst says, "I don't want to have the bail thing where I am a prisoner in my parents' home, which is possible."

Farm Bureau women's rally slated Tuesday

"Our Heritage Guides Our Future" will be the theme of the southwest regional Farm Bureau Women's Rally to be held Tuesday, September 30.

The rally will be held at the Blue Moon lodge in Xenia beginning at 10 a.m.

A speech titled "The American Family — A Look to the Future" will be presented by Dr. Barbara N. Armstrong, associate professor of family and child development at Akron University. Dr. Armstrong is noted for her excellent visual presentations on family life, and has received awards from three universities for her outstanding teaching.

She received her bachelors and masters degrees from West Virginia University and has written a number of publications on family communication. She has also served as president of the Ohio Council on Family Relations.

A county historical highlight program will be presented by the Farm Bureau women and Jack Hill, Ohio Farm Bureau vice president for education and community services, will recognize "Spirit of '76" advisory councils, and advisory councils who helped organize new discussion groups.

Tickets for the rally can be purchased from Farm Bureau women's committee chairwoman, Marge Schaefer at 437-7221.

NCR sees profit down in quarter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — NCR Corp. said Thursday it expects its third quarter profits to be short of the record $19.9 million, or 84 cents a share, earned in the same three-month period last year.

William S. Anderson, chairman and president of the firm, said it was doubtful the full-year earnings will exceed 1974's record net income of $87.2 million, or $3.67 a share.

Expectations were lowered, Anderson said, "primarily because the economic recovery forseen for the last half of the year, both in the U. S. and abroad, isn't occurring as rapidly as anticipated."

Police check four accidents

Four accidents were reported by Washington C.H. police today, none of which involved injuries or citations for driving infractions.

Cars driven by Keith W. Wrightman,

17, of 219 Kennedy Ave. and James M. Morrison, 17, of 136 McKinley Ave., collided in the Hidy Foods parking lot on Columbus Avenue at 4:24 p.m. Thursday. Police estimated damage as moderate to the Morrison auto and slight to the Wrightman car.

A car driven by Emily S. Burbage, 24, of 2001 Heritage Drive, struck the open car door of a parked auto owned by Karen S. Huffman, 903 Lakeview Drive, at 5:05 p.m. Thursday in the parking lot in the 200 block of N. Fayette Street, police reported.

The walk-don't walk sign at the corner of Court and Fayette streets was moderately damaged by a turning semi-truck at 9:18 p.m. Thursday, city police reported. The sign belongs to the city of Washington C.H., 208 N. Fayette St.

A car driven by Forrest E. Mason, Columbus, struck the closed circuit television camera and speaker owned by the Washington C.H. Police Department while traveling in the alley beside the police station at 2 p.m. Thursday. The truck driven by Mason belonged to Ohio Delivery Inc., police said.

Criminal trespassing filed

Two Washington C.H. boys, ages 13 and 14, were charged by city police with criminal trespass at 6:36 p.m. Thursday.

Police stated the boys were found on the roof of the Fayette Progressive School, corner of Fayette and Elm streets, throwing apples at passing cars. Both youths have been released to their parents.

A .22 caliber Winchester bolt-action rifle and scope plus a hunting vest with hunting license attached were stolen from a pickup truck belonging to Danny Fowler, 1212 S. Main St., between 8 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Thursday. Police are investigating the theft.

Richard L. Brannon, 5, of 2941 Old Springfield Rd., was bitten on the right leg by a neighbor's dog who came into his yard at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Police stated the youth was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

Presley jets up for sale

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two of Elvis Presley's four luxury jet liners are up for sale.

An advertisement in Thursday's Wall Street Journal valued the Presley Jet Commander and Gulfstream I at $550,000 and $750,000, respectively.

Nigel Winfield of Miami, the man responsible for the sale, said his company has been deluged with inquiries.

"Just the fact they belong to Elvis is the main selling point," Winfield said.

Presley will still be able to fly in style, retaining an $850,000 Jetstar with two bedrooms, two baths, dining room, club room and three color televisions. He'll also keep his personal plane, a $1.2 million Convair 880 equipped with club room, dining room, lounge and library.

High court eyes challenge by OEA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court has taken under advisement a legal action by the Ohio Education Association that challenges the line-item vetoes applied by Gov. James A. Rhodes to the new "equal yield" school funding bill.

John Hall, chief lobbyist for the powerful teachers' lobby, said Thursday the group's counsel advised him they should know within the next 30 days whether the court will grant a requested writ of mandamus.

If granted, the writ would require state agencies affected by two of the item vetoes to carry out the legislature's intent, vetoes notwithstanding. Hall said the case would decide as well whether five additional vetoes applied by Rhodes in the same bill will be allowed to stand.

The OEA, along with majority Democrats in the Senate and House, claim Rhodes acted illegally because his authority to use the item veto is restricted to appropriations bills.

Vetoed provisions in the court case would set up a pilot urban education project to develop programs for disadvantaged youngsters, and require the listing of taxpayers' resident school districts on their state income tax returns.

Hall said the writ of mandamus would mandate that the superintendent of public instruction and the Department of Taxation, respectively, go ahead with implementing of the legislation.

He said those two provisions were chosen because they were "the sim-

CAREER SALES OPPORTUNITY

Would you like to earn $10,000 to $25,000 a year (and more) as a salesman? You can do it here in your own hometown. No overnight travel is required. We offer a comprehensive three year training program. You will receive excellent fringe benefits. There is an opportunity for rapid advancement.

Of the 20 individuals in sales positions in our various Ohio offices for two or more years, 8 earn in excess of $25,000 a year and 9 others earn between $10,000 and $25,000 a year. In recent years our top salespersons and their spouses have qualified for all expenses paid meetings in Caracas, Venezuela; Honolulu, Hawaii, the Costa del Sol, Spain; Rome, Italy; and Acapulco, Mexico.

We pay a starting income of up to $1,000 a month. A bonus plan makes it possible to earn in excess of $18,000 in your first year and in excess of $25,000 in the second year. We can prove this has been done. After the initial three year training period, our men and women are self-employed and completely independent.

A sales background and a college degree are desirable, but certainly not essential. Twelve of our salespersons are college graduates of whom 6 have Master's degrees. Others are high school graduates. We have successful individuals under 30 years of age. Other successful persons in our organization are grandparents.

We have no particular requirements — we are looking for honest, hard-working men and women who meet people well and who will work very hard and follow our proved sales system exactly.

Take five minutes to investigate this challenging and rewarding career with a 65-year-old organization. Call our central office in Columbus (614) 224-1291 on Friday, September 26, between 4:00 and 7:00 p.m. and on Saturday morning, September 27, between 9:00 and 12:00 and ask for Mr. Richard Tice.

Educators hear Cincinnati bishop

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Roman Catholic Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin told 15,000 Catholic educators that their "best contribution" to the nation's bicentennial "will be to maintain a strong alternative educational system, one which ensures freedom of choice for our parents and children."

Atlanta, Ga. Mayor Maynard Jackson, was scheduled to address the Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia convention of the Catholic Education Association today.

Archbishop Bernardin said it was important for parochial schools not only to teach what freedom is but also to teach the Judeo-Christian concept of freedom.

"Today when many people speak of freedom they often confuse the word with permissiveness," Bernardin said, mentioning euthanasia, sexual freedom and abortion.

"All these things and many more are demanded in the name of freedom. But instead of freeing people, these aberrations make slaves of them. They become, as Jesus told us, the slaves of sin."

"Instead of experiencing that freedom which liberates a person's spirit and makes it possible for him to find his highest fulfillment in the friendship and love of the Lord, they are placing themselves in a trap which can lead only to frustration, disillusionment and despair."

The archbishop said Catholic schools must prepare students to understand freedom and to use it in "an imaginative and constructive way."

Charles Silberman, author and educator, told the convention that American schools are gaining the happiness and freedom which lets children educate themselves in open classrooms.

Open education is not an undisciplined style of learning, said Silberman, author of "Crisis in the Classroom."

"Open education advocates say the purpose of education is to educate men and women who can educate themselves," he said.

"A change for the better seems to be taking place. I am more hopeful than I was five years ago when the kind of teaching I like could only be found here and there."

PERFORMANCE SLATED — Jeannette Junk as Clarissa, and Michael Ballam as her lover, Ecclitico, will appear in the Indiana University Opera Theatre production of Haydn's "The World on the Moon," which will be presented Tuesday at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington D.C.

Comic opera performance eyed by Jeannette Junk

Soprano Jeannette Junk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Junk, 107 E. Circle Ave., will sing the role of "Clarissa" in Josef's Haydn's comic opera, "The World on the Moon," to be presented by the Indiana University Opera Theater Tuesday at the J.F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington D.C. as a major event of the capitol's two-week International Haydn Festival.

Also appearing in concert at the "Haydnfest" will be such renowned groups as the Philadelphia Orchestra, the National and Pittsburgh Symphonies, the Pittsburgh Chamber Symphony, the Monteverdi Choir of Hamburg, Germany, the Curtis Institute Orchestra, the Julliard and New Hungarian String Quartets, and several prominent soloists. Eminent musicologists from all over the world will take part in the concurrent conference on Haydn's works.

"The World on the Moon," written in 1777 in honor of the marriage of Haydn's patron, Prince Esterhazy's son Nicolas, was presented as the opening performance of the Indiana University Opera Theater's 22-week opera season September 20. Performances will continue Saturdays through October 11. The entire production is designed by Max Roethlisberger with Tibor Kozma as conductor and Ross Allen as stage director.

The Indiana University Opera Theater is an integral performing organization of the Indiana University School of Music, selected by a survey of music educators conducted by Change Magazine as the nation's number one music school. The Opera Theater has received acclaim from music critics of such publications as the Washington Post, the New York Times, the Chicago Tribune, and Opera News Magazine. In 1972 after the official opening of the 20-million-dollar Musical Arts Center, Time Magazine noted that the Indiana University Opera "compares with its nearest rivals like a 747 with piper cubs."

Hydrant flush hurts hospital

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Routine flushing of fire hydrants Wednesday caused water pressure to drop at Mansfield General Hospital, finally leaving the facility without water for several hours.

Because of low pressure, flush toilets remained open with water running continually into the hospital's internal sewers, eventually backing water and sewage in basement storage areas.

Finally, the hospital turned off the water. It was turned back on later in the day. Personnel are still checking for water damage, said Bruce Smith, assistant hospital administrator, said.

Haise to guest at Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Apollo 13 astronaut Fred Haise will be a guest at the bicentennial salute Oct. 4 at Mansfield Lahn Airport.

Haise was a member of the 179th Tactical Fighter Group of Ohio Air National Guard 1960-63, while working for NASA as a test pilot in Cleveland.

Greenfield-Wilmington key game

SCOL opens full grid slate

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

A full slate of action will highlight the real opening of South Central Ohio League play tonight as the eight loop teams pair off on the gridiron.

Washington C.H. and Greenfield McClain have already tucked league wins under their belts at the expense of Madison Plains, the newest addition to the SCOL.

The three unbeaten league teams are expected to have rather easy times tonight with Circleville playing winless

Madison Plains, Miami Trace taking on Unioto and Washington C.H. facing Hillsboro.

The Greenfield-Wilmington game promises to be the most evenly matched contest of the night.

A brief rundown on tonight's games follows:

CIRCLEVILLE AT MADISON PLAINS

The second-ranked Class 'AA' team in Ohio shouldn't lose any ground in next week's Associated Press poll after the sports writers read the result of tonight's game with the Golden Eagles.

Even though Circleville managed only two touchdowns in each of its three previous games, the Tigers should run around, over and through the Plain's defense that has given up 83 points so far this season.

The Tiger defense should have less trouble than the offense. The Eagles haven't scored a point all season either.

All-leaguer Biff Bumgarner is getting closer to all-Ohio honors everytime he touches the ball. He has rushed for over 100 yards in the Tigers previous three games and he has scored five of the Tiger's six touchdowns.

This contest should be a laughter with Circleville getting all the chuckles unless Bumgarner breaks his leg. Then, the Eagles may stay within two or three touchdowns.

GREENFIELD AT WILMINGTON

Greenfield has turned into a team to be reckoned with after countless losing seasons and Wilmington is fresh from a 20-6 upset of Cincinnati Purcell setting up what should prove to be the closest contest in the league this week.

Greenfield has an explosive offense led by running back Tony Anderson, who shares the league scoring lead with Washington's Mark Fisher.

Wilmington will counter with big, fullback Russ Crosthwaite and 'Mr. Do-It-All' Gary Williams, who is just a sophomore. He has run back two interceptions for touchdowns, scored from the halfback spot on offense and kicked a 30-yard field goal so far this year.

Both teams are 2-1 for the season with the Tigers only loss coming at Springfield Shawnee and the Hurricanes setback coming at the hands of Xenia in the season opener.

The winner of this matchup would loom as a serious league title contender.

HILLSBORO AT WASHINGTON C.H.

The Indians are always keyed up for the annual grudge match with the Blue Lions, and this year coach Mike Doyle will have more talent than usual to throw into the game.

Both teams will be without key defensive personnel as Steve Zink, an honorable mention all-league choice at tackle last year, joins the Lion's Doug McCune on the sidelines with season ending knee injuries.

The Blue Lions will have to stop the running of Steve Kelch and Ken Captain, and both Indian backs have had 100-yard plus games this year. They may have trouble reaching that mark this week as the Blue Lion defense has allowed only 174 yards on the ground in three games.

Tailbacks Mark Fisher and Jeff Elliott should again see most of the running plays action, but Blue Lion quarterback Greg Marti may get the okay to fill the air with footballs against a Hillsboro secondary that ranks last in the league on pass defense.

It could be a closer contest than past Hillsboro-Washington C.H. encounters — due more to the improvement of the

MIAMI TRACE AT UNIOTO

The Panthers have run up over 1,000 yards in just three games this season and its doubtful that the Unioto defense is going to bring down the Miami Trace average.

The Shermans will be outmanned on both the offensive and defensive line, but their backfield is big and experienced with senior running backs Dave Anders, Bob Matson and Roger Rutherford all capable of getting yardage of their own with or without blocks.

However, the Panthers are used to big running backs and Greenon's Marty Minna and Jackson's David P. Davis had little success in the rushing department against a solid defense led by senior Greg Cobb.

The Miami Trace offense will be led by sophomore quarterback Art Schlichter and he will be working against the same rare 4-4 defense that he plays in when the Panthers don't have the ball.

Miami Trace beat the Shermans 16-3 last season, but tonight the Panthers should widen the margin and come home with a 4-0 record.

INJURED LION — Senior Doug McCune relaxes in his bed at Riverside Hospital in Columbus earlier this week following surgery on his left knee. He was injured in Friday's win over Westerville North. There was no cartilage damage, but the ligaments were severed in his knee. The Washington C.H. griddier returned home Wednesday and he is expected to attend tonight's contest with Hillsboro. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland McCune, Staunton-Sugar Grove Rd.

Orioles, Bosox look for clear weather

AL East front-runners winding up

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The two front-runners head into the home stretch of the American League East race tonight, hoping for a clear track and no rain.

Scratched by bad weather for most of this week, both the Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles are scheduled for twilight doubleheaders as they start the last weekend of the regular season.

The Orioles, rained out of a doubleheader Thursday night with Detroit, will play two games with the New York Yankees at Shea Stadium. The Red Sox, washed out of Thursday night's game with Cleveland, will host the Indians in a pair at Fenway Park.

Boston, with a 3½-game lead over Baltimore, has a magic number of four to clinch the last playoff spot in baseball. But if nothing is decided by Sunday, both teams have a list of possible makeup games for next week.

"I have a hunch the race will end by Sunday," said Alvin Dark, whose Oakland A's have clinched the American League West. "I anticipate playing Boston. I don't disrespect Baltimore. But with all those doubleheaders and games to be made up, things are going against them. It means they could be forced to use their fifth and sixth starters in some of the games — and that's a difficult situation."

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver doesn't quite agree, although he admits the situation is a bit tenuous for the Orioles.

"It looks like Monday's game could come into focus," said Weaver, who would probably be forced to start a rookie if the Orioles have to play the Chicago White Sox in a makeup game.

The White Sox walloped the A's 8-2 and the Minnesota Twins trimmed the Kansas City Royals 5-2 in the only American League games Thursday night. In the National League, the San Diego Padres beat the San Francisco White Sox 8, A's 2.

Wilbur Wood pitched a fivehitter against a second-line squad of Oakland players, leading Chicago's victory over the West Division champions. Wood, 16-20, was backed by a 13-hit attack which included three hits by Jerry Hairston, giving the outfielder seven hits in two games.

Twins 5, Royals 2

Craig Kusick hit a home run and a single and scored twice, leading Minnesota past Kansas City. Kusick's homer, his sixth of the season, led off the fourth inning and came off Paul Splittorff, 9-10.

Padres 8, Giants 6

Willie McCovey walloped his 22nd and 23rd home runs of the season and drove in three runs and Dave Winfield hit his 15th, leading San Diego over San Francisco. The victory sealed fourth place in the National League West for the Padres.

Oklahoma clash tops slate

By JOHN R. SKINNER
AP Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — "We're not looking ahead to Nebraska this week," says Carl Selmer, maintaining a sense of humor for his University of Miami football team's game tonight against top-ranked Oklahoma.

Selmer's Hurricanes gave up 422 yards rushing to Georgia Tech's Wishbone offense last Saturday in opening their season with a 38-22 loss.

Selmer says Oklahoma runs the Wishbone better than any team in the nation. The Sooners have averaged 461 yards rushing and 523 yards in total offense in routing Oregon 62-7 and Pitt 46-10.

Halfback Joe Washington gained 166 yards and scored three touchdowns against Pitt. He had four touchdowns against Oregon State and has an average of 6.4 yards a carry.

"You can't concentrate on Washington," said Selmer. "When you play Oklahoma, you've got to respect everybody. They've got good team balance."

Washington's running mate, Elvis Peacock, is averaging 4.9 yards a carry with three touchdowns. Fullback Jim Littrell is averaging 6.0 yards.

And there's no dropoff on the second unit, with fullback James Culbreath averaging 6.9 yards and halfbacks Horace Ivory 9.5 yards, Kenneth King 7.3 yards and Billy Sims 5.5 yards.

Selmer says he thinks he has spotted one weakness in the Sooners, who are unbeaten in their last 31 games, but he's not sure the Hurricanes will get a chance to exploit it.

"They haven't punted very well," said Selmer. "Of course, they don't have to punt very often."

Littrell has punted four times for an average of only 21 yards, and Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer says receiver Tinker Owens, who had a 40-yard kick against Pitt, will replace him.

While Oklahoma will be trying to extend its unbeaten string on the road, the eight teams behind them in The Associated Press rankings will have the luxury of playing at home. It will be No. 2 Ohio State vs. North Carolina, No. 3 Southern California vs. Purdue, No. 4 Nebraska vs. Texas Christian, No. 5 Missouri vs. Wisconsin, No. 6 Texas vs.

Texas Tech at night, No. 7 Notre Dame vs. Northwestern, No. 8 Texas A&M vs. Illinois, and No. 9 Michigan vs. Baylor.

UCLA, the last member of the top 10, will be at the Air Force Academy.

Among the second 10, it will be No. 11 Alabama at Vanderbilt, No. 12 Penn State at Iowa, Brigham Young at No. 13 Arizona State in a night game, Boston College at No. 14 West Virginia and No. 15 Arizona at Wyoming. Also, Auburn at No. 16 Tennessee, North Texas State at No. 17 Oklahoma State, San Jose State at No. 18 Stanford, No. 19 Florida vs. Mississippi State at Jackson, Miss., and No. 20 Maryland at Kentucky.

Lion golfers lose to Circleville

Circleville breezed to an easy 20-stroke win Wednesday in a South Central Ohio League golf match with Washington C.H.

The Tiger golfers shot a 166 at the Washington Country Club course to hand the Blue Lions their seventh defeat in eight outings.

Ken Sanders was medalist for the day shooting a 40 while leading the Tigers to victory.

John Moore was low man for Washington C.H. with a 44 while Scott Lewis carded a 46. Scott Sefton and Greg Tillett followed with a 47 and 49 respectively for the Blue Lions.

The loss left Washington C.H. 0-6 in the league.

The Court House reserves won their match over Greenfield Thursday at Buckeye Hills Country Club.

Greg Tillett was medalist in the match with a 48 as the Blue Lions took a 211-222 victory. Willie Hatfield shot a 52, John Walker carded a 54 and Scott Douglas finished with a 57 to round out the reserves' scores.

Middle Schoolers win grid match

A touchdown with just seven seconds left in the game put the icing on Washington C.H. Junior High School's football victory over Hillsboro Thursday at Gardner Park.

The Court House gridders scored once in the first quarter and held on behind a strong defensive performance for a 16-0 win.

Tom Shields scored the Middle Schoolers first touchdown on a 21-yard run and John Belles ran for the two-point conversion.

Donald Everhart scored the other touchdown in the final seconds of the game on an eight-yard run. Shields threw for the conversion connecting with Jim Bennett for two points.

"The whole defensive team had a good ball game against a big, well coached and fast Hillsboro team," coach Rodger Mickle said.

The Court House offense rushed for 144 yards and went four for four in the air for 33 yards.

It was the season opener for Mickle's junior high squad and the next game is slated for next Thursday at Unioto.

The Middle School Seventh Graders opened their grid season against Greenfield Tuesday and dropped the contest 12-0. Their next game is slated for Tuesday at home against Circleville.

Three options face players

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer
National Football League players, overwhelmingly rejecting management's latest contract offer, now have three options: they can return to the bargaining table, continue to play without a contract or strike for

Punt, pass, kick deadline nears

Saturday is the final day for youngsters in Fayette County to register for the local Punt, Pass, and Kick competition.
Local competition will be held at Gardner Park Stadium Sunday and interested youths between the ages of eight and 13 can register at Carroll Halliday Ford.
There is no entry fee or charge of any kind, and that goes for all six levels of competition, up to and including the national finals.
Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place finishers in the

the third time in 14 months.
Each of the possibilities, however, presents a danger.
If they return to the bargaining table, it is reliably reported that the owners would come back with a less inviting offer than the one now before the players.
local competition at each of the six age groups. There is no body contact, and an entrants size is not as important as his ability to punt, pass and place kick for distance with accuracy.
Local winners can continue on up through the zone, district, area and division contests to the national finals to be held in Miami this January at halftime of the Super Bowl.
Each entrant will receive a free "tips book" containing pointers from the pros on punting, passing and kicking. In this year's edition NFL stars Ray Guy, Ken Anderson and Chester Marcol give helpful suggestions.

If they continue playing without a contract, there is danger of a further split among the players and clubs, with the possibility of the pension plan going broke.
And if they strike again, they will further alienate the fans who voiced their disagreement at the previous walkouts and they'll lose 1-14th of their salaries for each missed game.
Despite these obvious dangers, the players' dissatisfaction with management's offer is mounting rapidly.
Of the league's 26 teams, 16 have voted to reject the new contract, only one has voted to accept it and the other nine have either not voted or not announced their votes.
Through Thursday night, the total vote count against the offer was 470-75. Fourteen teams voted for rejection Thursday.
They included New England, 47-0; San Francisco, Washington, Oakland, Kansas City and New Orleans, each 43-0; Chicago, 41-0; Miami, 30-5; Cleveland, 30-11; Philadelphia, 24-18, and Detroit, 27-15.

Green Bay, Atlanta and St. Louis also voted against it, but did not reveal their exact vote counts.
Previously, Buffalo and Houston each had voted 43-0 to reject the offer.
Still to be counted were Dallas, Minnesota, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Denver, San Diego and the two New York teams — the Jets and Giants. However, it was learned that Los Angeles had voted for rejection, although player representative Jack Youngblood declined to disclose the results.
Only Cincinnati voted to accept, 26-13.
The vote against the contract was not a vote to strike. That must be done in a separate ballot. So far, none of the teams has announced plans for a strike vote and all are expected to play their games this weekend.
But unhappiness with management's latest offer, a four-year proposal, continued to grow.

Biofeedback - Voluntary Control

I'm constantly reading about the new science of biofeedback. Why is there so much excitement about it as a form of medical treatment?

Mr. B.T., Tex.

Dear Mr. T.: There is great interest in the new science known as biofeedback. Its early promises now seem to be opening broad areas of research in the control of body function. For centuries it has been known that the yogi was able to control the depth of his respiration, the rate of his heart beat and even the degree of perspiration, by an unexplained control over his involuntary nervous system. A highly specialized autonomic nervous system is a division of the general nervous system of the body. Unlike the rest of our nervous system, the autonomic subdivision is involved in the involuntary control of body functions. Biofeedback is, in essence, a method by which the involuntary control can be placed under voluntary control. By studying brain waves and altering some of them, it is felt that biofeedback may be valuable for the control of anxiety, deep-seated fears, drug abuse and alcoholism. Some enthusiasts even feel that insomnia, headaches, high blood pressure and social adjustment to society may be affected by biofeedback training.

At the Morton Prince Center for Hypnotherapy, in New York City, biofeedback is being used to break the habit of smoking and to modify behavior in people who are markedly overweight.

Dr. Milton V. Kline, Director of the Morton Prince Center, believes that within the framework of the newer studies in biofeedback there lies an enormous potential for controlling psychological problems that resist other methods of treatment.

Do the adenoids tend to disappear as the child grows older?

Mrs. H.D., Wise.

Dear Mrs. D.: Usually, past puberty, the adenoids tend to become smaller. It is relatively rare for teenagers and young adults to have persistent and bothersome adenoids, even if the tonsils still do present a problem. Surgery, therefore, in this age group is directed only to the removal of tonsils if repeated sore throats occur.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

3. The bidding has gone:

3♠	Dble	Pass	4♥
Pass	?

What would you bid now?

1. Four diamonds. You might feel tempted to simply bid four hearts, because partner may have an awful hand on his bidding to date. However, it costs you nothing to make a slam try by bidding four diamonds. North does not need much for twelve tricks to materialize. Thus, he might have as little as in which case you'd surely want to be in six.

2. Three notrump. It is true that North made an affirmative response by bidding two spades and he probably has 8 or more high-card points. However, the fact that partner has lots of spades doesn't raise your values at all, and, indeed, your hand is greatly reduced in value by this unwelcome news. You therefore try to slow partner down by bidding three notrump, which is not forcing.

North may still go on to a slam - he could have a very good all-around hand and be bidding his time - but there's nothing more you can do at this point except bid three notrump.

3. Pass. The purpose of East's preemptive bid is to make things tough for you, and he certainly has succeeded here with his opening three spade bid. There are three main actions you can consider under the circumstances, and any of them could prove to be right or wrong. One is to pass, which is admittedly conservative. Another is to bid four spades, thus inviting partner to bid a slam. The third possibility is to raise four hearts to five. There is no clear-cut answer!

Life, death questions raised

Editor's Note: The case of Karen Quinlan, the young New Jersey girl in a coma whose parents want to let her die, has raised once again the difficult moral and medical question of how to define life. The following presents one view of the awesome problem.

By LESLIE BENNETTS

The Philadelphia Bulletin

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Except for the bed, it is a normal living room, cluttered with the usual cheerful family array of photographs, children's drawings, mementos. It is hard to walk around, however; most of the cramped space is occupied by the giant chrome surgical bed that glitters so coldly in the afternoon light.

A human being is lying on the bed. She cannot move, cannot speak; no one knows whether she feels or thinks. Her limbs, once young and strong, are twisted and crippled from disuse; they twitch meaninglessly on the sheets. She is 17 years old.

Elsewhere, over in New Jersey, a legal and medical controversy swirls heatedly around the case of Karen Quinlan, a young woman suspended in a mysterious coma whose parents want to terminate the extraordinary measures keeping her alive.

Here in Northeast Philadelphia lies what is left of another young woman named Karen. These parents lost the girl they knew to massive brain damage long ago. She did not die, however; space-age medical technology kept her body going.

In July of 1973, 15-year-old Karen Vikingstad seemed to have a promising future ahead; she was an A student in accelerated courses. She swam, ran track, was talented in art, on the piano, and on her beloved flute. She was robustly healthy. Unit that morning when her brother's clock radio sounded, and Karen called out for someone to turn it off. Moments later she was choking, her tongue hanging out, eyes rolling in their sockets.

No one knows what happened or why. By the time Karen was rushed to the hospital, her brain had been deprived of oxygen for so long it was damaged beyond repair.

"Her heart stopped once or twice more that evening, and they had her hooked up to every possible machine to keep her body functioning," says Mrs. Vikingstad. "But they knew then what severe brain damage there had been. Wasn't that the time to come and say to us: 'I'm sorry, your daughter is dead?' I know it's not an easy question for them, either, but someone had better look into what happens afterward to the lives they're saving by their heroic measures."

Her eyes are desperate as she gestures toward her insensate daughter. "She's had over two years now of what they call life — but that's not life."

Mrs. Vikingstad has given up hope for her daughter. She is enraged over opinions put forth in the debate over Karen Quinlan.

"If I had known two years ago what I know now, I would have pulled every one of those plugs that kept my daughter alive. I wish I had the courage, but I didn't, and what can I do now? Can I stop pouring the food into the tube in her stomach and let her slowly starve to death? I can't do that...."

Woman donates art to Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Five and one-half years ago, Mrs. Harry Lynde Bradley offered Milwaukee a deal: Provide suitable quarters for her $11 million art collection and the community could have it as a gift.

The deal was completed this week, and amid festivities that ranged from symposiums on the future of art in the Midwest to polka and jazz concerts, the Milwaukee Art Center opened a three-level, 150,000-square-foot addition on the shore of Lake Michigan.

Most of the 800-piece collection is housed there, being displayed as a group for the first time. There are Picassos, Kleees, Bonnardes, Chagalls and Toulouse-Lautrecs, amid paintings and sculpture by contemporary artists purchased as recently as three weeks ago.

Early childhood development eyed

An early childhood development center, designed to prepare children ages 2½ to 5 for kindergarten in public schools, is scheduled to open in Washington C.H. next month.

The childhood development center will be held in a home which is presently vacant at 927 Briar Avenue from 8:45 until 11:45 a.m. Monday through Friday during the school year.

Mrs. Warren Monday, of Lakewood Hills, is sponsoring the school and will be serving as the center's director.

Mrs. Monday said the early childhood development center to be known as "The Learning Tree" will open Oct. 6.

The enrollment, according to Mrs. Monday, will be limited to 17 children. Seven children are presently enrolled and the parents of several more have expressed an interest.

The cost is $42 per month, plus a nominal insurance fee, Mrs. Monday said.

Curriculum will include social skills, personal care, physical development, responsibility, discipline, art, music, Spanish, geography, science, pre-number skills, pre-reading skills, pre-writing skills, nature study and foreign culture.

While the school is designed to prepare students for kindergarten classes, Mrs. Monday said, "The children actually teach and discipline themselves" under the program's concepts.

She said the program also "smoothes the transition for reading and writing" for pre-school youngsters.

Mrs. Monday and her husband, Warren, a controller at the Redman Industries, Inc., plant in the city's industrial park, moved to Washington C.H. in July from Ephrata.

Pistol match slated Sunday

The last monthly pistol match at the Fayette County Fish and Game Association range on Stafford Road will be held beginning at 12 noon Sunday.

Fish and Game Association officials said a good turnout is assured since a number of regular shooters will be participating.

Cash prizes will be awarded and all competition will be from a distance of 25 yards.

Pa. Mrs. Monday holds a master's degree in Spanish and taught the foreign language on a part-time basis at the University of Toledo. She also was a Spanish teacher in Toledo area high schools for several years.

Mrs. Monday was an art and Spanish instructor in a private, accredited Montessori school in Reading, Pa. before relocating in Washington C.H. The school in which Mrs. Monday taught in Pennsylvania was similar to the pre-school program which is being established here.

The program will continue throughout the present school year and Mrs. Monday said she hopes a summer physical educational program can be established.

Persons interested in enrolling their children may contact Mrs. David McMillan (335-2782), the school's registrar. Further information about the program can be obtained from Mrs. Monday at 335-0102.

Conspiracy to murder trial held

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — A Lorain detective testified Thursday that he saw Dr. George P. Gotsis give money to a taxi driver and heard the doctor say "I don't care" when the driver asked him how Gotsis wanted another doctor killed.

Gotsis, a Lorain physician, is on trial in Lorain County Common Pleas Court here on a charge of conspiracy to commit aggravated murder. The prosecution is trying to prove that the doctor paid the taxi driver to procure someone to kill Dr. Denis A. Radefeld.

Radefeld is the chief of staff at Lorain Community Hospital and headed a committee that was instrumental in taking away Gotsis' right to practice in the hospital.

The taxi driver, George Abraham, is alleged to have been paid $503 by Gotsis to find persons to kill Dr. Radefeld. Police say Abraham reported the alleged murder plot to them and they then tried to overhear conversations between the two.

Sgt. Lee Matuszak, the detective, testified that on April 18 he and another policeman were in an abandoned gasoline station that serves as a cab stand and observed a meeting between Gotsis and Abraham.

The detective said he saw Gotsis give Abraham a "wad of money." Matuszak said he heard Abraham say, "How do you want Dr. Radefeld killed?" and that he heard Gotsis reply, "I don't care."

The prosecution also played a tape recording of a telephone conversation between Abraham and the doctor. "Still want to do it?" Abraham asked in the recording. "Yes," the doctor replied.

It was during this conversation that the taxi driver and Gotsis made an appointment to meet at the cab stand, the conversation on the recording revealed.

The common dormouse spends more time in hibernation than any other mammal. The hibernation usually lasts between five and six months (October to April), but the record goes to an English specimen sleeping six months 23 days, with interruption.

SOARING INTO SKY — The Huntington Banks hot air balloon soars into the skies during a test flight while spectators dream of what it would be like to float along quietly and pleasantly with the breeze.

Hot air balloon ascension slated

The 80-foot Huntington Bank hot air balloon, which ascended from the Fayette County Fair this summer, will be one of the featured attractions at the second annual Washington C.H. Offsides benefit football game Saturday, Oct. 4.

The giant red, white and blue hot air balloon, complete with pilot, gondola and gas burners, will ascend from Gardner Park Stadium on W. Circle Avenue at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 4. Community Education program director Hank Shaffer said it is hoped the balloon will be able to travel in an easterly direction in order to pass over the route of the pre-game parade.

The benefit game between the Offsides and Paint Creek No-Stars will be played at 8 p.m. All proceeds from the game will be used for the operation of the Community Education program in Washington C.H.

The Huntington Bank of Washington C.H. and affiliated banks in 12 other Ohio cities have joined in creating the hot air balloon and sponsoring its tour throughout the state.

Piloting the balloon will be 29-year-old Dan Stone, a professional airplane pilot, skydiver and balloonist. Stone has piloted more than 250 balloon flights including the popular balloon ascensions at Kings Island amusement park near Cincinnati.

The balloon operates on the basic premise that hot air is lighter than cool air, and a bag filled with the hot air will rise.

Air is heated in the nylon balloon by two gas burners positioned at the mouth of the balloon and operated by the pilot in the gondola. Heating the air causes the balloon to ascend. When the burners are turned off, the air cools and the balloon slowly descends.

The pilot has no control over lateral movements. This depends solely on winds. A five mile per hour southerly wind, for example, will carry the balloon south at five miles per hour. Instrumentation inside the gondola includes an altimeter, a variometer, which gives ascent and descent rates, and a temperature gauge which provides a reading of air temperature within the nylon balloon.

Hot air ballooning got its start in France in 1783. The Montgolfier brother, French paper makers, are credited with discovering the principle of hot air ballooning and building the first balloon to carry passengers, a sheep, a duck and a rooster.

Shapp seeks campaign funding

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp said Thursday that voters aren't looking for charisma in presidential candidates, but knowledge of economic problems.

Shapp, who Wednesday announced he was running for the Democratic party presidential nomination, was here to meet old friends and raise support for his campaign.

"I challenge anyone in the Ford administration to debate me on monetary policy," he said, adding that familiarity with economic issues will appeal to voters more than the candidate's image.

"None of the other candidates have an understanding of what the problems really are," he said. "What the voters are looking for is someone who will say, 'Look, I understand what the problems are and here's what I'll do for you.'"

He said that although he is well known in the East, "I've got a lot of work to do in the Midwest and other parts of the country."

Irate motorists attack caboose

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP) — A railroad flagman told police five or six irate motorists tried to break into his caboose Wednesday night after the train blocked a crossing for one hour and 20 minutes.

The unidentified flagman said the motorists also began yelling and throwing stones. No injuries were reported.

Liquor prices to increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Retail liquor prices will go up an average of five cents a fifth in Ohio's state liquor stores Nov. 1.

Liquor Director Clifford Reich announced the increase Thursday, a few hours after the Governor's Cost Control suggested a 10 cent a bottle hike.

Reich said he felt that large of an increase would be too much to make Ohio competitive with surrounding states. He agreed with the council an increase was needed.

Reich said the increase, which will amount to no more than 10 cents on a half-gallon, should bring in about $3 million additional a year.

The council had estimated that its suggested increase would bring in around $6.7 million.

Reich said two other council proposals had already been put into effect.

He said the Department of Liquor

Control has already scrapped the use of electronic cash registers with data transmission and recording devices in selected stores.

The department has already begun elimination of nonselling brands of liquor. The council said 25 per cent of the brands could be eliminated, and the estimated $2 million could be used to buy sellers.

As for the price increase, Reich said it was the first involving the state's share of liquor money since 1969 although distillers were granted a raise last month.

The council said increased costs have steadily eroded the state's profits from liquor sales over the past five years.

50-day extension accepted

New oil controls set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and President Ford appear ready to hold down oil prices for another 50 days while seeking an elusive agreement on long-term energy policy.

The Senate is voting today on whether to extend through Nov. 15 the oil price controls that expired Sept. 1.

That extension is part of a compromise proposed Thursday by Ford and quickly accepted by the Senate Democratic caucus. Following Senate approval, the plan now goes to the House.

Since the price controls expired Sept. 1, U.S. oil companies have not rushed to raise their prices because of the expectation that Congress and the administration would agree to extend them retroactively.

Special meeting series set on sewage proposal

A series of three special meetings has been scheduled by Washington C.H. City Council to approve a piece of legislation to enter into a contract for the second phase of the proposed improvement to the city's sewage treatment system.

City Council chairman Ralph L. Cook said the special meetings would be held at 5 p.m. tonight, 9 a.m. Saturday and 5 p.m. Monday in order to approve necessary legislation before an Oct. 1 deadline set by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

A three-fourths majority vote by City Council members will be necessary to approve the legislation.

The legislation enters the city into a contract with C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Ltd., Worthington, the city's consulting engineering firm, for the second phase of the multi-million dollar sewer renovation project.

Harrises arraigned

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill and Emily Harris were under around-the-clock observation today in a high-security jail atop the Hall of Justice after arraignment on charges stemming from an alleged crime spree with Patty Hearst.

The two Symbionese Liberation Army members were ordered held on $500,000 bail each Thursday and told to appear in Municipal Court Oct. 8 for a preliminary hearing on 18 felony charges, including assault with intent to commit murder and kidnapping.

They could be sentenced to life imprisonment if convicted.

The Harrises, who arrived separately for the arraignment at the Central Arraignment Courts Building, left together in a heavily guarded sheriff's van for the Hall of Justice. Two helicopters followed the four-car caravan.

They were housed in separate cells in the same cellblock with two SLA comrades, Russell Little and Joseph Remiro.

Woman wins $300,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Although games of chance make her fall asleep, Linda J. Geffert of Barborton was real perky when she won the Ohio Lottery's top prize of $300,000 Thursday night.

"Cards make me fall asleep," the 26-year-old housewife said. "I couldn't believe I'd won. I never win anything."

Mrs. Geffert, a former bank teller, said she plans to use the prize money to buy a house, pay bills and take a trip with her family to California to visit a relative.

Her husband is a heavy equipment

The $300,000 winner was Charles E. Freeman of New Castle, Pa. The $15,000 winners were Earl A. Lindsey of Cleveland; Warren L. Hunley of Dayton; Barbara Rachel of Mansfield and Robert W. Van Sickle of New Philadelphia.

In the Buckeye 300 the winning single number was 394 and the double was 843 911. In the Lucky Buck game the three-digit number was 408 and the six-digit number was 821779. The Lucky Buck jackpot bonus number was 08537.

Dayton man kidnapped, slain

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The body of Dayton businessman Lester C. Eموff, 67, was found today in a wooded area near here, the FBI said.

Eموff, who was believed abducted Tuesday night as he left one of the furniture stores he owns, had been shot in the back, agents said.

The FBI had two suspects in custody and was looking for a third in connection with the incident, said C. Edwin Enright, assistant agent in charge of the FBI for southern Ohio.

Enright declined to comment on whether $400,000 ransom paid by the victim's family had been recovered.

About three hours after Eموff was apparently abducted at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday, his son, Robert, received a ransom note.

According to the FBI, the note contained a threat to dynamite Eموff and his car if the demands were not met.

FBI agents said the ransom was paid at about noon Wednesday, but would not disclose the method of payment.

Members of Eموff's family issued a statement Thursday night saying the kidnapers' instructions were followed exactly and they were "hopeful his release will come soon." They said they did not want to make any further comment "that would jeopardize his safe return."

Eموff's auto, a 1973 gold Cadillac, also disappeared with him but was found Thursday night abandoned in suburban Miamisburg.

One nearby resident said later he had seen two white males in their late 20s leave the car there about midnight Tuesday.

William Sheltier said the men transferred to a white late-model Cadillac and drove off.

Sheltier said the reason he noticed was "I heard this car door slam, and when I went to the window, I saw this one guy wiping off the gold car in the middle of all this rain."

"Then he got something out of the trunk of the gold car and another guy slid out of the passenger side of the gold car and they both got in the other Cadillac and drove off," he said.

He said he could not see the men's faces or the object they took out of the trunk and could not read the license number of the car they left in, but no

The next step is for Congress to get back to the problem it has been unable to solve since January: how to form an energy program that Ford will accept.

Ford has given no indication that he will back away from his oft-stated position that price controls should be ended to force conservation and reduce imports of foreign oil. And congressional Democrats seem as adamant as ever that controls must be retained so long as foreign oil-producing countries have the power to set prices of U.S. oil at artificially high levels.

But the two sides have agreed to talk. Ford asked to meet the Senate-House conferees, who will begin work next week on hammering out a compromise version of the differing energy bills passed by the two houses.

The first such meeting could come next week. Congressional aides said it is likely the conferees will work out most of the differences between the House and Senate bills before trying to find agreement with the Ford administration.

The Democrats point to the special New Hampshire senatorial election on Sept. 16 as evidence the voters are rejecting Ford's plan of higher energy prices.

In that election, in which energy was a big issue, Democrat John A. Durkin won in a landslide over Republican Louis C. Wyman. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, said Thursday that Ford is having second thoughts about his plan of higher prices because of the election.

Meanwhile, a congressional staff report concluded that the sharply higher oil prices have raised the cost of producing oil and other forms of energy and that domestic production continues to drop.

The report by the energy subcommittee staff of Congress' Joint Economic Committee said the higher oil revenues have been used by oil companies to outbid each other for labor, materials and equipment.

In another development, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the higher oil prices being hammered out by the members of the Organization of Oil Exporting Countries are at least partially the responsibility of Congress because the lawmakers failed to enact Ford's program to help domestic production.

Coffee Break . .

FOUR GROUPS of girls from the Y-Teens and Tri-Hi-Y clubs at Washington Senior High School will be conducting a door-to-door canvass of the Washington C.H. area Monday night soliciting funds for leukemia research.

The group of approximately 50 girls will be canvassing with four advisors from 5:30 until 8:30 p.m.

PLAYERS interested in participating in the second annual Washington C.H. Offsides-Point Creek No-Stars benefit football game Saturday, Oct. 4 are requested to meet at the Gardner Park field house at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Community Education program director Hank Shaffer said those who have been contacted about playing, those men who participated in the game a year ago and those who attended a recent organizational meeting should report for Sunday's team meeting.

one fitting Eموff's description was in sight.

Sheltier witnessed these events at almost the same time Eموff's son reportedly received the ransom note, leading to speculation that more than the two men were involved in the disappearance.

According to his employees, Eموff was a man of habit. Robert Neddo, manager of the store where Eموff was last seen, said Eموff would routinely leave the store at 9:15 p.m., 15 minutes before closing.

Neddo said on Tuesday night "there was nothing out of the ordinary whatsoever, and that's what's so shocking."

Store employees remember Eموff leaving Tuesday night, but none could recall seeing him get into his car and drive off. The car was parked in front of the store.

Another employee, Jim Shuler, said he left the store at 9:25 p.m. and saw nothing suspicious.

Neddo said Eموff did not carry money or valuables on his person. He said Eموff's briefcase was filled with only furniture orders.

Won't affect candidacy of Case, Simpson

Full-time judgeship created

A full time judgeship for the Washington C.H. Municipal Court has been created by legislation recently signed into law by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The legislation, House Bill No. 205, created the full-time judgeship and also raised the salaries of full-time and part-time judges. Since the bill contained an emergency clause it went into effect immediately after the signature by the governor.

The reason for the creation of the full-time position is not clear at this time. However, it apparently is the result of the ever-increasing load that is being handled by the Municipal Court.

Both candidates for Municipal Court judge this fall, Washington C.H. attorney Robert L. Simpson and former Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge John Case, said the creation of the full-time position would not have any effect on their candidacy.

A full time judge cannot practice law in the state of Ohio, according to the Ohio Revised Code. This will not affect Case who is not a practicing attorney.

The new law also sets the salary for the full-time judge at $21,000 plus a sum equal to 18 cents for each person in his jurisdiction. This will amount to an annual salary of approximately $25,000 for the Municipal Court judge.

JOHN P. CASE

ROBERT L. SIMPSON

Present salary for Judge Reed M. Winegardner, who was elected as a part-time judge, was increased by the same legislation and now stands at just over $15,000 per year.

The pay of the judge has also caused some confusion. Judge Winegardner claims that since the law is effective immediately that he should receive the pay of a full-time judge for the remainder of his term which expires Dec. 31. However Fayette County prosecuting attorney James A. Kiger is of a different opinion.

Kiger said that, although he had not had an opportunity to thoroughly study the law, he was of the opinion that Judge Winegardner would be paid only as a part-time judge since that was the position he was elected to hold.

Whatever the outcome, the city of Washington will pay 60 per cent of the salary and Fayette County will pay 40 per cent.

Engineering firm details costs

By GEORGE MALEK

One of the major concerns of Washington C.H. residents surrounding the proposed sewer system improvement project is the cost. Considering the fact that the price tag has been estimated at $23.6 million, this concern is certainly justified.

According to the figures presented by C.E. Bird, R.J. Bull, Ltd., the city's consulting engineering firm, the cost to each homeowner would be based on the amount of water consumed.

The total cost of the facility over the next 25 years would be $13,350,000. This figure includes construction of the new treatment plant, operation and maintenance costs for the 25-year period, and interest on $5,900,000 which would have to be supplied locally. The remainder of the cost would be paid by a federal grant and would carry no interest charge.

The consulting engineers have obtained the actual water-use figures for Washington C.H. residents from the Ohio Water Service Co. Based on these figures, they estimate that the average homeowner will have to pay approximately $8.50 per month for sewerage.

This cost will vary for each homeowner, however, depending on the amount of water actually used. Since the water company and the sewage billing system would use the same figures, any homeowner may calculate his bill based on present usage. If your water bill was $3.26 at the last mailing, your accompanying sewer bill would have been $3.50. Some other general usages are: water, $5.48 — sewer $6.50; water, $6.59 — sewer, $8; water 8.70 — sewer, $9.50, etc.

The sewer bill would change monthly just as your water bill does now, depending on how much was used during the month.

One estimate submitted by the consulting firm is a projected doubling of the population of Washington C.H. during the next 25 years. Several other knowledgeable persons predict that only limited population growth will occur in this area during that time span.

Critics of the new sewer proposal state that if the population does not increase significantly, the city will be unable to pay for the new sewer and treatment facility.

At the present level of water use by Washington C.H. residents at the suggested payment rate for new sewer services, the community would pay approximately $11,320,000 over 25 years. This is $2,030,000 less than the total cost of construction and operation.

funds, only a 20 per cent increase in population is necessary by the year 2000. That would mean a population of only 15,600, which is below even the most conservative estimates.

While projecting a population of 30,000 in the year 2000, the consulting firm is also estimating a surplus of $1,467,500 (without interest) during the payment period. While this surplus would not be realized if the population did not reach the 30,000 figure, a population of less than 16,000 is necessary to pay for the project.

If there were no population increase at all in Washington C.H., the sewer bills would have to be only 10 per cent higher than currently estimated to pay for the plant and sewer lines.

Under the proposed plan, the new sewer rates would be imposed on Washington C.H. residents for five years before construction began. This would generate more than $550,000 per year during that period, or $350,000 beyond the operating costs of the plant. Investing this money each year would result in a balance of approximately $2,200,000 at the end of the five-year period. Thus, a loan of $3,700,000 would be needed to finance the project. The yearly payments on the loan would amount to some $349,200, according to Richard Whiteside, president of the Huntington Bank in Washington C.H. This is the same figure supplied by the consulting firm.

EPA director claims

Present sewer system poses 'health hazard'

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Editor

The city's present sewage treatment system is hazardous to the health of Washington C.H. area residents, city officials have learned.

Ned E. Williams, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency in Columbus, informed Washington C.H. City Council vice chairman Joseph O'Brien this week of the presence and extent of the health hazard caused by an inadequate sewage system.

"There is at present a health hazard to the local residents," Williams said. "With the deposition of solids in the sewers, methane gas and hydrogen sulfide are allowed to generate resulting in the accumulation of an explosive gas and deadly fumes. Permitting the sewage to become septic prior to arriving at the plant precludes the plant from providing satisfactory treatment. As a result, not only does Paint Creek become polluted, but the plant then discharges obnoxious odors to the surrounding neighborhood," Williams said.

"The presence of methane and hydrogen sulfide are in themselves deadly. Anyone coming in contact with Paint Creek during periods of storm overflow discharges or relatively soon afterwards could contact and spread infectious disease," Williams added. "Portions of the present sewer system are on the verge of collapsing. Should this occur on a main trunk line there could be sewage in the streets presenting an intolerable situation."

Williams also explained to city officials requirements to comply with EPA mandates, what has been done by engineers employed by the city, the specific problems that must be corrected, alternatives in solving the problems, the area to be serviced by the proposed system, the question of eliminating odors and penalties which could be imposed for non-compliance with EPA requirements.

EPA mandates

Williams said the city is under previous orders of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board to submit detailed plans for sewage facilities to serve Washington C.H. The present discharge permit, he said, has a rigid compliance schedule leading to the construction of adequate facilities. "The only mandate we are imposing on Washington C.H. is to take the necessary steps to alleviate and prevent further pollution of Paint Creek," the EPA director said.

Engineering projects

C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Ltd., Worthington, the city's consulting engineering firm, has prepared a facilities plan which outlines the most cost effective and environmentally sound solution for the city, according to Williams. "We have concurred with the recommendations and have forwarded the facilities plan to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency," Williams noted. "The plan was on display for public comment and a public hearing was held Jan. 8.

The plan, according to the EPA director, indicates the city needs a completely new sanitary sewer system since the present sewers were not designed for that purpose and are in "such deteriorated shape that it would not be cost effective to fix or repair most of them."

Williams also explained that the sewage treatment plant needs to be

Roy E. Gilmerr

CHILLICOTHE — Services for Roy E. Gilmerr, 80, of 17 W. High St., Frankfort, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Fawcett-Oliver and Glass Funeral Home, Chillicothe, with the Rev. Clair Emerick officiating. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery, Frankfort.

Mr. Gilmerr died at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Ross County Medical Center, Chillicothe, following an extended illness.

Mr. Gilmerr, a farmer on the Austin-Good Hope Rd., for 25 years, was a state highway department employee, a Concord Township trustee for 20 years, 50-year member of the Masonic Lodge, past commander of the Frankfort American Legion, member of the Ross County Democratic Central Committee and its executive committee, a member of the Greenfield Eagles Lodge and Elks Lodge, and trustee and member of the Session, Frankfort United Presbyterian Church.

Surviving is his wife, Bernice M. Voss Gilmerr, whom he married July 19, 1934; a sister, Mrs. Esta Miller of Frankfort; two nieces, Mrs. Maxine Mees of Frankfort and Mrs. Howard Nihiser of Chillicothe; and a nephew, Leo Lightle of Frankfort.

The Frankfort American Legion will conduct graveside services and Masonic services will be conducted at the funeral home at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Saturday.

Donald E. Rolfe

MOUNT STERLING — Donald E. Rolfe, 57, of Orient, died at 4:45 p.m. Thursday at his home.

He is survived by his wife Lucille and a daughter, Mrs. Jean Spring of Harrisburg.

Funeral arrangements will be under the direction of the Porter Funeral Home, Mount Sterling, but are incomplete at this time.

'Squeaky' sets defense

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette Fromme says she will handle most of her own defense on charges of trying to kill President Ford, despite her lack of legal training.

"I'm determining the entire case," the 26-year-old disciple of convicted mass murderer Charles Manson said in an interview from a visitor's cell at the Sacramento County Jail.

She said she expected to do most questioning of witnesses and make the closing argument to the jury.

Miss Fromme faces trial Nov. 4. The charges against her stem from an incident Sept. 5 when witnesses said she pointed a loaded .45-caliber pistol at Ford as he was shaking hands near the state Capitol.

Earlier this week, U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride allowed her to act as her own attorney and named federal public defender E. Richard Walker as co-counsel.

LEGAL NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that The Ohio Bell Telephone Company has filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an Application stating that the Company is entitled, because of the reasons set forth in said Application, to reasonable and equitable increases and adjustments in its rates and charges for exchange telephone service, intrastate message toll telephone service, intrastate mobile telephone service, intrastate private line services and intrastate wide area telecommunications service, and to change the regulations and practices affecting the same, and to revise its Exchange Rate Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 3, its General Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 4, its Message Toll Telephone Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 7, its Mobile Telephone Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 2, its Private Line Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 2, and its Wide Area Telecommunications Service Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 1, to effect such increases, adjustments and changes, all as more fully set forth in the Application on file with the Commission and in the exhibits attached thereto and made a part thereof.

The proposed revisions will effect increases and adjustments in rates and charges and changes in the regulations and practices affecting the same throughout the territory in which the Company operates.

The prayer of the Application requests the Commission to do the following:

(a) Approve the proposed rates and charges and changes applied for herein;

(b) Approve the filing of said proposed schedule sheets contained in Exhibit "B" hereto, modified to reflect such revisions thereof as may become effective pursuant to orders of your Commission, during the interim between the filing of this Application and the date upon which said proposed schedule sheets become effective;

(c) Establish an effective date for said proposed schedule sheets; and

(d) Grant such other and further relief as Applicant is reasonably entitled to in the premises.

A copy of the Application, including a copy of the present and proposed schedule sheets, a statement showing the amount of proposed increase or decrease in each changed rate or charge which is not affected by changes in regulations and practices, and a statement describing the proposed changes in regulations and practices affecting rates and charges, may be inspected by any interested party at the office of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, and at any public business office of the Company.

This matter is scheduled for public hearing beginning on Tuesday, October 21, 1975, at 9:30 A.M., at the office of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio.

The form of this notice has been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

THE OHIO BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Say agent handled Moore gun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A gun collector says an undercover federal firearms agent unwittingly examined the gun Sara Jane Moore bought and, a day later, shot at President Ford.

"The man handled several guns in my attache case," collector Mark Fernwood said Thursday. "I'm almost certain he handled the one she shot at the President. I know he saw it."

Law enforcement sources said Mrs. Moore drove the unidentified agent to Fernwood's Danville home Sunday after she had given police and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) information about possible federal gun control law violations.

"On Sunday, about 12 noon, she and a man named Chuck came over in her car," Fernwood recalled Thursday. "They came out to look at guns. She wanted to pay me for a pistol she bought two weeks ago and wrote me out a check. He expressed an interest in buying some guns and I showed him my collection."

The federal sources said the ATF agent observed Mrs. Moore write Fernwood a $125 check for a .44-caliber revolver which she purchased two weeks earlier. That gun was seized by San Francisco police later Sunday, after she hinted to police about her assassination plans.

But Mrs. Moore replaced it with a .38-caliber revolver purchased from Fernwood on Monday, then shot at the President outside a downtown San Francisco hotel.

Fernwood said that at the time he had no inkling "Chuck" — described as a clean-cut, "nondescript" man in his early 30's — was an agent, but noticed that Mrs. Moore and her companion showed little rapport.

"He might have asked a few questions about my collection, but not too many," said the balding 26-year-old antique weapons collector. "But there was nothing in the questions to indicate that he was investigating anything. He seemed to be just tagging along."

The unidentified agent and Mrs. Moore were shown part of Fernwood's weapons collection, including a briefcase containing several handguns for sale, then left a short time later.

The ATF was hoping to buy guns from Fernwood at a later date for possible use in an investigation, the sources said.

"Evidently she was a worker for the ATF and working on my case," Fernwood said. "They are trying to develop a case against me and Sara Jane was working for them."

"But there's no reason for them to investigate me. I've always obeyed the gun laws," declared Fernwood, who says he collects guns as a hobby and mainly sells percussion pistol kits.

"We have no comment," W.H. McConnell, assistant to the ATF director, said in Washington. "It's an open investigation and we're not acknowledging any data printed so far, other than the fact that we had contact with Mrs. Moore."

have been estimated at $225,000 per year. Taking into account the inflation of salaries over 20 years and the increased maintenance of 20-year-old equipment, the operating costs for the year 2000 are projected at $438,000. All of this cost is included in the $13,350 total estimate.

One point which seems to be often overlooked by area residents is the increase in sewer rates which can be anticipated if this project is not undertaken. The city is presently under order to operate the treatment plant on a 24-hour per day basis, which has not been done. Several tests required regularly by the government are not being completed.

Simply to bring the present system into compliance with present government restrictions would cost a considerable amount. And these would not offer a solution to the pollution problem.

Bird and Bull have investigated a wide range of alternatives which might solve the city's pollution problems, but they have concluded that the proposed route is the least expensive. Failure of the city to take any action could result in a complete building ban and possible fines until such time as something is done to correct the situation.

One of the alternative plans submitted by the consulting firm could be implemented for a few million dollars less. However, the annual operating costs would be nearly double the cost of operating the proposed system.

Since the federal government will pay 75 per cent of the initial cost but none of the operating cost, this plan appears to be the least expensive for local residents.

OHIO LAW empowers the City Council to enter into the contracts necessary for construction of the system and has the right to bill residents for usage, the consulting firm stated. They said they had been in contact with state officials before rendering an answer.

Area residents had questioned whether or not the plan could be implemented without a popular vote of the community.

If Council approves Phase II of the project, the consulting firm will begin drawing detailed plans of the facility and sewer system. These detailed drawings will eventually be submitted to contractors for bids so that an exact cost figure may be obtained.

In order to finance the second phase and begin building a surplus for actual construction, it appears likely that the new sewer rates will become effective early in 1976.

Council members are meeting Friday night, Saturday morning and again Monday night to approve the contracts for Phase II before the Oct. 1 deadline set by the federal government.

As yet no state funding for the project has been found available and federal funds cannot be used to match any part of a federal grant. Thus, it appears that local residents will bear the entire $5,900,000 of city's share of the project.

However, several sources have indicated that sewer projects may soon be removed from the list of programs funded by federal grants. Without federal assistance the entire cost of a sewage improvement project might fall on local homeowners, and something must be done soon if Washington C.H. is to bring pollution of Paint Creek to a halt.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On Sept. 5, CBS aired a 90-minute special on hunting. It included scenes of bears being shot near a town dump, ludicrous "shoot- ing" preserves and a badly-botched killing of a deer.

Called "The Guns of Autumn," it caused massive protest, mainly from hunters who in thousands of calls and letters called it biased and said it showed only "slob hunters," not the average hunter.

This Sunday, some Maine hunters, filmed as they watched the show, get in their angry words about it as part of a 60-minute CBS follow-up program called "Echoes of the Guns of Autumn."

This show, reported by Charles Collingwood, examines reactions to and issues raised by "Guns." Work on it began even before the first show was finished and on the air.

"Echoes" is a fascinating effort, if only because it excellently illustrates how television can generate such tremendous emotion — and preshow and postshow protests — by taking on a true controversy.

The show reflects the outrage — and the minority views — in various ways, through hunters, letters, the taped calls of viewers and in the reactions of a group of men, ranging from a Humane Society official to a National Rifle Association executive, who saw "Guns" at KSLTV in Salt Lake City, Utah, before it aired nationally.

The viewpoints, while predictable, still are engrossing, as are the various other thoughts on such things as "the hunting ethic" and game management as expressed by opposing force on the show.

For me, the most interesting part of "Echoes" is its report on protest campaigns by individuals and groups, and its candidness — for TV — in naming the eight advertisers who fled "Guns."

Collingwood, however, takes pains to make clear that only one company, Comb Chemical Co., pulled its three scheduled commercials as a direct result of a complaining preshow call, that one from the Denver, Col., branch of a group called Safari Club International.

Only one scheduled sponsor, Block Drug Co., stayed in. It refused requests from gun clubs and groups whom it didn't name to yank its ads. It said to do so would mean it was trying to be a censor.

"Echoes" probably won't change any views about hunting, but one part of it more than suggests that some folks angered by "Guns" didn't quite look before they fired, so to speak.

The show says that angry viewers in at least "12 major cities" (the number of viewers isn't specified) told the United Fund they won't contribute this year because a UF announcement appeared during "Guns."

They thought UF bought time on the show. It hadn't. CBS aired the announcement free as a public service message CBS alone had scheduled.

Women share the blame

A Gallup Poll shows that a large majority of Americans approve of women in politics. Almost three-fourths of them say they would vote for a qualified woman as president. This is particularly interesting because it is so much out of harmony with the actual state of political affairs. More than half a century after the women's suffrage amendment and several years into the women's liberation movement, women still play a distinctly secondary role in politics. This is not wholly the fault of women; they are handicapped by society's prevalent male orientation. Women must accept a share of the blame, though. Few of them have been as venturesome in the political arena as they must be if women are to take their rightful place in American politics.

THESE DAYS... By John Chamberlain

Why do we undermine the CIA?

So it's front-page news when the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence hears testimony that the Central Intelligence Agency sent some poison to Africa in 1961 for an assassination attempt on Patrice Lumumba, whose possible return to power in the Congo would have constituted a Communist victory.

Okay, the use of poison can hardly be morally justified as a tool of democracy even in extremity. But the plan to kill Lumumba was somehow aborted, which tells us something about the working of checks and balances even in the midst of Cold War operations. We ended by poisoning nobody.

The discouraging thing about our present national crusade to skewer the intelligence agencies that were doing the best they could to fight the spread of Communism in the '60s is its utter lack of balance. Actually, the sins of the CIA, the FBI and other intelligence agencies have been a piddling lot of minor peccadilloes. A few wires tapped, a few letters opened, and some guns sent to the Dominican Republic for use against Trujillo.

Someone in the CIA failed to get rid of a couple of poisons when Nixon issued an order to have a biochemical warfare agents destroyed. It could have been a semantic error: After all, are poisons based on shellfish toxins and cobra venom "biochemical"? They are "bio," all right, but the man responsible for keeping them, assuming that he was anything more than negligent, could have been mixed up about the scope of the Presidential order.

Even assuming the worst of motives

on the part of an isolated individual or two in the CIA, why do we glory in hurting the entire intelligence community at a time in which the Communists, far from drawing in their horns, are doing their best to revive Allendeism for Chile and to kill off any democratic hopes for our NATO allies in Portugal?

As Charles W. Wiley, the embattled Executive Director of that estimable organization known as the National Committee for Responsible Patriotism, put it, "While we proceed to destroy our intelligence capability in the name of preserving freedom and privacy, we are rapidly losing both. Across the world, many think we're either adults gone mad or Disneyland disguised as a real country."

We are, as Wiley says, vulnerable to "terrorists, kidnapers, sky-jackers, spies, organized crime and other anti-social forces" (i.e., the Mansonites, etc.); and "hampering legitimate intelligence gathering is a far greater menace to freedom and privacy than the activities themselves." Millions of Americans can't even enter a public building without signing in and out, and nobody can take an attaché case aboard a plane without having it X-rayed or searched. Airport security taxes now cost us billions of dollars.

Just to prove something to himself about the one-sidedness of our attitude toward "us" (the U.S. intelligence agencies) and "them" (the "dirty tricks" operatives who work for the Soviet KGB or for the Maoists or Peking), Wiley staged a press conference the other day. He had come across a United Press International story from the Philippines under a Manila dateline for 1969. As far as can be determined, the story ran only in the Philippines.

Under the by-line of Vicente Maliwanag, it recounted the gist of an interview with President Ferdinand E. Marcos about a "Communist Chinese general" who had slipped into the Philippines in 1966 and "plotted to assassinate President Johnson, former Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, and (Marcos) himself."

Marcos said the plot was part of an elaborate plan of local Communist intellectuals and armed Huk dissidents who aimed at taking over the Philippine government. The plot came to nothing, even as the CIA plot to poison Lumumba came to nothing.

But in the contest of "nothings" why is a disclosure about the CIA worth that front-page fanfare in the New York Times while a similar disclosure about a Red Chinese plot to kill Lyndon Johnson gets practically no play at all? If we are going to investigate the use of political assassination as an instrument of government policy, why not extend the scope of the investigation to include our enemies have been doing?

Mr. Wiley wants to know. He is the sort of person who thinks there is a difference, after all, between a Nathan Hale and a Benedict Arnold, both of whom, technically speaking, were "spies."

With secret operatives are being judged, it is important to know who is working for whom.

By ROBERT E. MILLER

Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An estimated 2,000 speech and hearing therapists are being given until Jan. 1 to become licensed by the state under a law that became effective today.

Legislative sponsors, including Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze Jr., D-25 Cleveland, said the law brings under state control one of the last major segments of health care not already licensed.

In particular, the bill establishes within 90 days a new State Board of Speech Pathology and Audiology to license speech pathologists and audiologists, even those who treat problems free of charge, if any exist.

Celebrezze and others cited no great problems of abuse in urging the bill's approval, but argued instead that it was needed as a safeguard in an area that could be open to abuse among practitioners not otherwise required to have adequate medical knowledge and experience.

George Compson, chief of the legal division of the Ohio Department of Health, said although the department didn't request the legislation, he felt it could be valuable because many children are among those affected by speech and hearing impediments.

The fees include $50 (nonrefundable) for an examination and $100 for an initial license. Annual renewals of licenses will cost $50. The newly created board will operate exclusively on fees it collects. They are estimated at $225,000 the first year and $125,000 annually thereafter.

In addition to passage of a written examination by the board, applicants must have completed a "broad general education," must have had 60 semester hours of special education in human communication disorders, 300 clock hours of supervised clinical experience approved by the board, and nine months of professional clinical experience in the special areas of speech pathology or audiology.

The bill's "grandfather clause" exempts from the written test and educational requirements those persons already practicing, including those who have at least a bachelor's degree in the field or who have been employed therein for at least nine months within the previous three years.

Gov. James A. Rhodes is to name the five-member board within the next 90 days. It will include two pathologists, two audiologists, and one member of the general public. They will receive $15 a day plus expenses for meetings that must be held at least once a year. The board's staff will operate on a full time basis.

planter's indiscretion

DEAR ABBY: Re: the infuriating letter from SEEN IT ALL may I inquire whether SHE chooses her work clothing to please her neighbors? Why does she expect the pansy planter to kowtow to her prudery? If "Pansy Planter" wished to plant her garden in the nude, why should it affect your priggish letterwriter and her apparently humorless family? Let them erect a wall around their patio if they can't stand the view.

"LIVE AND LET LIVE"
DEAR LIVE: For another view, please read on:

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed SEEN IT ALL complained about a 68-year-old neighbor lady who displayed her uncovered rear end to the entire neighborhood while planting pansies.

Your reply was too mild. I would have told the offended neighbor to take a good clear color photo of the pansy planter using a zoom lens, have it enlarged, and send it to her with the following note:

"A guest took this while HE was visiting us."

WICHITA, KANSAS

DEAR WICH: You topped me. That should be the end of it.

DEAR ABBY: I am unmarried and my father is a widower. (we share a house.)

I find it most irritating after cooking a hot dinner to have to compete with a newspaper every time I put a hot plate of food in front of my father.

He always has a newspaper propped up against his water glass because he likes to eat his dinner and read at the same time.

I think this is very inconsiderate! After all, I would like a little company while I am having my dinner, but this doesn't seem to occur to him. This has been going on for years, and I am very annoyed at this point.

My father is 80. I'll bet you are going to tell me that nothing can be done to change him at his age, but age is no excuse for rudeness.

WHAT TO DO?

DEAR WHAT: I don't know how many other pleasures your father has at age 80, but I'll wager they are few. It would be easier for you to adjust to his "habit" than for him to change it. If you haven't mentioned your irritation, do so. He just might be more flexible than you are.

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating an attractive divorcee I'll call "Mary" for about six months. I date no other woman, but I have made no commitments to Mary, either.

For my birthday last month, she gave me an expensive gold I.D. bracelet, engraved, "Hands off! I belong to Mary."

I pretended to be delighted with this gift, and have worn it a few times just to please her, but I've quit wearing it because the idea of being labeled somebody's private property turns me off.

Mary keeps asking me why I'm not wearing the bracelet. I keep telling her I "forgot" it. I hate to lie, but I don't want to hurt her feelings. What should I do? Sign this...

"I BELONG TO ME"

DEAR "I": Level with her. Tell her you appreciate the "thought," but don't want to wear a sign declaring that you "Belong" to anyone. Because you don't.

Today In History

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Some awkward situations can now be worked on successfully; an opponent made an ally. Adroit thinking is the answer — plus a shrewd bit of diplomacy.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Avoid the illogical and close your eyes to the dubious schemes of others — no matter how attractively they may be presented. Let your head rule your heart.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Employ the techniques successfully used in prior efforts. But do not hesitate to update plans and vitalize your approach. Tact in personal affairs!

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Reflexes, intuition and business acumen should be keen now. Especially favored under today's influences:

research, merchandising, business transactions.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

A day in which to curb your innate aggressiveness with intelligent self-discipline and stress moderation. Extremism of any kind could alienate others.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Some complexities indicated. In all situations, be sure you have the facts before making decisions. Travel and outdoor interests favored.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Care needed in both budgetary and domestic matters now. Also, avoid restlessness and changeability. A day for straight-line thinking and action.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

An excellent day for both business and personal interests. Even if you have to make some compromises, it will be profitable in the long run.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You may be given some extra responsibilities, but if the end results seem worthwhile, accept them — ambitiously. Curb a tendency toward restlessness.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You may make a discovery — both unexpected and profitable. Your clue lies in reading between the lines, studying the "fine print."

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Give a little extra time to matters which have been neglected, and remain flexible in your thinking; but DON'T go to extremes. Stress your inherent good sense.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Be extremely careful to discriminate between rumor and fact, not to accept hearsay as accurate information. Some deceptive trends prevail.

YOU BORN TODAY, as a Libran, are an extremely versatile individual, endowed with a great love of beauty and a natural ability to create things which fulfill this side of yourself and bring great pleasure to others as well. You are also fond of intellectual pursuits and are most content in work which permits you to profitably employ the mind. Many of those born on this date have deeply religious and philosophical feelings and these are often expressed in their writings and art. Traits to curb: moodiness and hypersensitivity.

Church honors senior members, schedules family hiking trip

Sunday, the congregation of First Presbyterian Church will be honoring the members of the congregation who have been members for at least 50 years.

Several in this category will not be able to attend the service because of health, but plans are being made to have those not attending presented with tokens from the church. Those in attendance will be recognized and presented with a flower from the congregation, and a group picture will be taken in the sanctuary after the worship service.

There are 63 members of the church who have been members for 50 years or longer, with 3 of them having been members for 75 years or more.

Deacons of the church will assist the pastor in the presentation of the members, and in distributing flowers to shut-ins who cannot attend. Those who have given many years of their life to the church will also assist the pastor during the worship hour in reading Scriptures and leading in the prayers.

This service has come about by the suggestion of several older members of the congregation who requested to take part in the services.

The youth of the church take part each quarter with a complete worship service and participate in the worship on the last Sunday of each month.

Members of the church are invited to come along on a family hike Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 8 p.m. Families will meet at the church and go to Pike Lake for the afternoon and evening.

There they will cook their evening meal around the campfire at the lake, and hold a brief vesper service.

It is anticipated that the church bus will be used to help transport some of those going.

Those attending are asked to take hog dogs and buns - the rest of the meal will be furnished.

All sizes and ages are invited, and are urged to wear warm hiking clothes.

This is an annual event of the church sponsored by the Christian Education Council and Youth Council of the church.

Last Sunday the congregation honored the members of their winning softball team. The team had begun play in June, and at the end of the season, they had won 15 games and lost three.

A trophy with the team name on it will be presented soon and placed on display.

In the Church Softball League this year there were 10 teams, representing various congregations of Fayette County.

Gregg Street Church welcomes new pastor

The Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union has welcomed a new pastor and two staff members.

The Rev. Stan Toler has succeeded the Rev. Robert Kline as church pastor. Rev. Kline is now working in the Church of Christ in Christian Union main office in Circleville.

Rev. Toler has been in the ministry nearly 10 years and has served pastorates in Newark, Lancaster and Tampa, Fla. He holds a Bachelor of Theology degree from Circleville Bible College and a Master of Theology degree from Florida Beacon Seminary.

Rev. Toler's brother Terry will serve in the Bus Ministry at the Gregg Street Church. He has been in Christian service for some time singing in various groups and playing the piano. He and Terry Miller, new Christian education director and choir director, also attended Circleville Bible College.

Miller served in music and Chrtisian education in Parkersburg, W. Va., and Tampa, Fla., before joining the church here. He is presently completing work for a degree.

The new staff members and their families are eager to serve the Washington C.H. community and may be contacted through the church office at 335-1079.

Leukemia benefit scheduled

A gospel sing for the benefit of the Leukemia Society of America has been scheduled Saturday night at the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Headlining the program which begins at 7:30 p.m. are the Carters, the Stritenbergers, the Adams Family and the Golden Hopes.

There will be no admission charge, but a freewill offering will be taken. All proceeds will be given to the Leukemia Society of America.

Speaking at the missionary service Wednesday night was Gary Thompson, a Washington High School graduate who served for nine weeks this summer on the Islands of Trinidad, Barbados, Antigua and Dominica.

A former assistant pastor at the local church, Thompson will graduate this year from Circleville Bible College with a Bachelor of Theology degree.

He is the son of Mrs. Heber Shields, 1025 Dayton Ave.

GARY THOMPSON

End of world to be discussed

Discussion groups regarding the unfolding events of the world today and their relationship to the end of time and the return of Jesus have been held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene VanPelt, 210 E. Elm St., Sabina, throughout the month of September.

Monday and Tuesday are the last two days on which interested persons mav join in the discussions. Groups will meet at 2 p.m. Monday and 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The basis for the discussions are a sermon recently presented at a camp meeting in Jackson, Ky., by Dr. M.J. Wood of Americus, Ga. a Wesleyan pastor and evangelist who has studied prophecy for the past 38 years.

Delta Kappa Gamma reviews organization history

Members of the Delta Kappa Gamma assembled Monday evening at the Terrace Lounge for the dinner-meeting, and the invocation was given by Mrs. Wayne Dowler.

The program was a reorientation of Delta Kappa Gamma. Mrs. Ralph Child related achievements and activities since its founding in Austin, Tex., in 1929. Miss Marjorie Evans gave the purposes of the organization.

The Washington C.H. Chapter was founded in 1939 with Mrs. Faye J. Mayo as its first president. Mrs. Mayo has never missed a meeting and has contributed much to the organization. She was presented with an Ohio Delta Kappa Gamma pin by Mrs. Karl Harper, president.

A report on the Northeast Regional Convention held at Greenbriar, White Sulphur springs, W. Va., was given. Members who attended were Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Leonard Watts, Mrs. Marilyn Riley and Mrs. Leonard Stephenson.

Instant nonfat dry milk can be sprinkled over partially set gelatin and the mixture whipped into stiff peaks.

Maple Grove Women elect new officers

New officers were announced by the Maple Grove United Methodist Women when they met in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Chaplin Wednesday. Time during the day was spent knotting comforts, following the potluck dinner at noon. The Rev. Russell gave the invocation, and Mrs. Chaplin conducted the business session. Members answered roll call by naming her favorite subject in school.

Members voted to enter the reading program and to purchase the two required books, also to keep the pledge the same amount for next year, and an invitation to attend "Parish Day" Oct. 21 at Good Hope United Methodist Church, was read.

The nominating committee composed of Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Harold Craven and Mrs. Carey Daugherty announced the following new officers: President, Mrs. Neil Rowland; vice president, Mrs. Chaplin; secretary, Mrs. Locie Eckle; and treasurer, Mrs. Marion Dawson. Coordinators of Missionary Education - Mrs. Rowland; Spiritual Life - Mrs. Harold Craven; Membership - Mrs. Ottilie Huff; and Christian Social Relations - Mrs. John Louis; local church activities - Mrs. Clyde Carman and Mrs. Carey Daugherty; cards - Mrs. John Rowland; and all new officers will be installed at the November meeting. They will take office Jan. 1, 1976.

Members made plans to begin their annual project of making mincemeat in October.

Mrs. Harold Craven presented devotions by reading from the Book of Acts, then compared this to the storm tossed world.

Mrs. Dawson read an article written by Johnny Jones, about an Arab boy from Africa. Mrs. Neil Rowland closed the meeting with a prayer for missionaries having birthdays in September.

Those present were Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Eckle, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Clyde Carman, Mrs. Earl Russell, Mrs. Neil Rowland, Mrs. Louis, Mrs. Craven and the hostess.

Mrs. Louis explained the poster which was a picture of Colonel Bottomly of the USAF, and told of his conversion.

The worship table held a picture of the Last Supper with the bread and wine representing communion, and a white candle in a brass holder with the Lily of the Valley encircled the base. The Bible was open to the Book of St. Matthew.

CCL has outing

A crackling bonfire was the setting for the first meeting of Grades to Grads Child Conservation League, when the Dale Ritenour family of near Jeffersonville was hosts to the league and their families with a wiener roast.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Claude Keim, when coming events were discussed.

Mrs. Charles Cline was welcomed back as a member, and also elected as a member was Mrs. John Frazier.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ray Bentley. The Rev. Mr. Richard Rector of the Jamestown Friends Church will be the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Swigert of Jamestown, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna, to Donald Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Watson of 5509 Palmer Rd.

Miss Swigert, a 1975 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is employed in the office of Dr. Shaw and Hancock.

Her fiancé, a 1970 MTHS graduate, is an employee of Avoset.

Women of Moose

Mrs. Jean Rayburn opened the meeting of the Women of the Moose when members met in the Moose Lodge Hall. There were 16 members present, and the charter was draped for the late Mrs. Marie Hizer.

Mrs. Helen Reid, recorder, reported on the business session and Mrs. Martha Meyers, chaplain, was in charge of the closing.

Mrs. Rosalind Creed won the door prize and the next meeting is planned for Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. at the Lodge Hall.

Association meets

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church held its fall meeting at the church on Thursday with Circle II as hostesses. The meeting was opened with the singing of "In Christ There Is No East or West."

The business meeting was led by the president, Mrs. Harvey Heironimus. The Area Workshop, to be at Greenfield on October 15th, was announced and reservations are to be made by October 10th.

The program was a filmstrip called "Well, Here I Am, Women in Mission - Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow." Refreshments were served from a tea table.

Patty still ardent revolutionary?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A private conversation recorded by authorities reveals Patricia Hearst as a still-ardent "revolutionary feminist" seeking freedom on bail, but not if "I'm a prisoner in my parents' home."

Patricia Tobin was made public Thursday. It left Patty's parents apparently shaken.

Her mother, Catherine, usually composed, called newsmen "a bunch of ghouls" as they sought comment on the excerpted transcript. And Mrs. Hearst and her husband, Randolph A. Hearst, cut short a jail visit with Miss Hearst Thursday night.

The conversation, recorded last Saturday at the San Mateo County jail, opens with Miss Hearst declaring:

"I'm not making any statements until I know that I can get out of, you know, bail ... bailed out, and then if I find out that I can't, for sure, then I'll issue a statement."

"But I would just as soon give it myself in person and it'll be a revolutionary feminist perspective totally, and you know I never got ... I guess I'll just tell you, like, my politics are real different, from way back when."

Miss Hearst laughed and then added: "And so this creates all kind of problems for me in terms of a defense."

Miss Hearst already faces a variety of state and federal charges including bank robbery and kidnapping.

As the partial transcript of the conversation was released in court documents, police said they are checking weapons seized when Miss Hearst was arrested to see if they were used in a double murder that left a radical prison reform leader dead.

Wilbert "Popeye" Jackson and a Vallejo teacher were shot to death June 8 with a 9mm pistol, similar to ones found in apartments where authorities say Miss Hearst and her comrades were living.

The conversation with Miss Tobin was detailed in documents sent to a court-appointed panel of psychiatrists charged with examining Miss Hearst's mental competency by U.S. District Court Judge Oliver Carter.

The transcript was provided the court by U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. It varies from the view of Miss Hearst contained in her affidavit filed earlier this week.

The conversation was recorded as Patty and her friend talked over a closed circuit telephone line at the jail in Redwood City as they were separated by a glass panel.

Miss Hearst's jailers said they routinely record conversations involving inmates as a security measure. Carter declined comment on the use of the tape as evidence, saying the only issue he has to decide now is Miss Hearst's mental competency.

When Miss Tobin asked her if she wanted to go home, Patty replied: "Well, what I want to do is ... I don't want to have the bail thing where I am a prisoner in my parents' home, which is possible."

The transcript submitted to the judge by Browning contained only excerpts of a longer transcript, which was not revealed in its entirety. Some passages were difficult to decipher because of apparent gaps, or pauses, in the conversation.

Transcript shows 2 sides to Patty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patty Hearst, an enigma in her absence, has become a more perplexing mystery since her capture.

Urged by a judge to speak out in court, she declines. Her attorneys speak for her in the third person, calling her fragile and half-mad.

Patty's only direct statements since her arrest come through controversial government eavesdropping. They indicate that her revolutionary alter-ego, "Tania," lives.

"I'll issue a statement," she says in the jail transcript released Thursday. "But I would just as soon give it myself in person, and it'll be a revolutionary feminist perspective totally."

Two days after that conversation with a girlfriend friend, Patty Hearst initialed every page of a sworn statement telling of terror and torture at the hands of the Symbionese Liberation Army, repudiating the SLA members she once claimed as comrades.

The first weeks after her Feb. 4, 1974, kidnapping so traumatized her that she has lost all memory of the succeeding 17 months, the attorneys said.

"She was in a constant case of fear and terror, and expected at any minute to be murdered by her captors," the document relates.

Oddly, the sworn affidavit never quoted Patty in the first person. Throughout the document, the attorneys refer to "she." An affidavit, considered to be a defendant's sworn testimony, usually is written in the personal "I."

It leaves many questions unanswered. But so does the elliptical jail transcript. Released in choppy excerpts, the transcript is punctuated to indicate that portions have been deleted or were indecipherable on tape.

For instance, talking about her parents and her changed political views, Patty is quoted in the transcript as saying, "Then that, like, they should like disregard all those last I don't mean disregard 'em I mean it's like that was a stage kind of thing, you know."

What is missing from that statement and others?

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr., who provided the transcript to U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter, wasn't available for comment when it was released by the judge. Patty's attorneys did not return calls requesting their comments.

The tape, however, provides Patty's first recorded words since her last famous message from the underground June 7, 1974. The language in both is peppered with profanity.

Asked by her friend, Miss Tobin, how she felt about being captured, Miss Hearst replies: "I was so pissed off, God damn it."

Miss Hearst is being held without bail pending a ruling on her mental competence to be cross-examined about the facts of her sworn affidavit. Her attorneys used the document to argue that she is not a flight risk and should be released on bail. They said that all that Miss Hearst wants is to go home to stay with her parents, Randolph A. and Catherine Hearst.

In the jail tape, Miss Hearst says, "I don't want to have the bail thing where I am a prisoner in my parents' home, which is possible."

Farm Bureau women's rally slated Tuesday

"Our Heritage Guides Our Future" will be the theme of the southwest regional Farm Bureau Women's Rally to be held Tuesday, September 30.

The rally will be held at the Blue Moon lodge in Xenia beginning at 10 a.m.

A speech titled "The American Family — A Look to the Future" will be presented by Dr. Barbara N. Armstrong, associate professor of family and child development at Akron University. Dr. Armstrong is noted for her excellent visual presentations on family life, and has received awards from three universities for her outstanding teaching.

She received her bachelors and masters degrees from West Virginia University and has written a number of publications on family communication. She has also served as president of the Ohio Council on Family Relations.

A county historical highlight program will be presented by the Farm Bureau women and Jack Hill, Ohio Farm Bureau vice president for education and community services, will recognize "Spirit of '76" advisory councils, and advisory councils who helped organize new discussion groups.

Tickets for the rally can be purchased from Farm Bureau women's committee chairwoman, Marge Schaefer at 437-7221.

NCR sees profit down in quarter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — NCR Corp. said Thursday it expects its third quarter profits to be short of the record $19.9 million, or 84 cents a share, earned in the same three-month period last year.

William S. Anderson, chairman and president of the firm, said it was doubtful the full-year earnings will exceed 1974's record net income of $87.2 million, or $3.67 a share.

Expectations were lowered, Anderson said, "primarily because the economic recovery foreseen for the last half of the year, both in the U. S. and abroad, isn't occurring as rapidly as anticipated."

Plane sought by air searchers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A beefed-up search crew, including some 25 planes and nine helicopters, intensified a search today for a light plane missing since Wednesday.

In addition, elements of the Indiana and Ohio wings of the Civil Air Patrol were called into the search, although a CAP spokesman here said that they would concentrate mainly in their own states.

Poor weather has hampered previous search efforts for the light plane, which was last seen Wednesday when it stopped for fuel in Henderson.

Officials said the plane was piloted by an electrical contractor from Morganfield, Sam Tommons, who had filed a flight plan for a trip to Pikeville.

See no role for Nixon

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Republican party national chairwoman says she envisions no role for former President Richard Nixon at next year's national party convention — probably not even use of his picture for display.

Mary Louise Smith, the chairwoman, said here Thursday that she doesn't have any plans to use Nixon's picture as part of the convention displays in Kansas City.

Speaking at a woman's club, Smith added that she is convinced former California Gov. Ronald Reagan will run for the party's presidential nomination against President Ford but that Ford will win easily.

Police check four accidents

Four accidents were reported by Washington C.H. police today, none of which involved injuries or citations for driving infractions.

Cars driven by Keith W. Wrightman,

17, of 219 Kennedy Ave. and James M. Morrison, 17, of 136 McKinley Ave., collided in the Hidy Foods parking lot on Columbus Avenue at 4:24 p.m. Thursday. Police estimated damage as moderate to the Morrison auto and slight to the Wrightman car.

A car driven by Emily S. Burbage, 24, of 2001 Heritage Drive, struck the open car door of a parked auto owned by Karen S. Huffman, 903 Lakeview Drive, at 5:05 p.m. Thursday in the parking lot in the 200 block of N. Fayette Street, police reported.

The walk-don't walk sign at the corner of Court and Fayette streets was moderately damaged by a turning semi-truck at 9:18 p.m. Thursday, city police reported. The sign belongs to the city of Washington C.H., 208 N. Fayette St.

A car driven by Forrest E. Mason, Columbus, struck the closed circuit television camera and speaker owned by the Washington C.H. Police Department while traveling in the alley beside the police station at 2 p.m. Thursday. The truck driven by Mason belonged to Ohio Delivery Inc., police said.

hunting license attached were stolen from a pickup truck belonging to Danny Fowler, 1212 S. Main St., between 8 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Thursday. Police are investigating the theft.

Richard L. Brannon, 5, of 2941 Old Springfield Rd., was bitten on the right leg by a neighbor's dog who came into his yard at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Police stated the youth was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

Presley jets up for sale

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two of Elvis Presley's four luxury jet liners are up for sale.

An advertisement in Thursday's Wall Street Journal valued the Presley Jet Commander and Gulfstream I at $550,000 and $750,000, respectively.

Nigel Winfield of Miami, the man responsible for the sale, said his company has been deluged with inquiries.

"Just the fact they belong to Elvis is the main selling point," Winfield said.

Presley will still be able to fly in style, retaining an $850,000 Jetstar with two bedrooms, two baths, dining room, club room and three color televisions. He'll also keep his personal plane, a $1.2 million Convair 880 equipped with club room, dining room, lounge and library.

Soil surveys complete

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Soil surveys prepared by the National Cooperative Soil Survey are complete for more than 45 per cent of Ohio land, said Robert E. Quilliam, state conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Ohio.

He said surveys are already published or are about to be published for 40 counties.

High court eyes challenge by OEA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court has taken under advisement a legal action by the Ohio Education Association that challenges the line-item vetoes applied by Gov. James A. Rhodes to the new "equal yield" school funding bill.

John Hall, chief lobbyist for the powerful teachers' lobby, said Thursday the group's counsel advised him they should know within the next 30 days whether the court will grant a requested writ of mandamus.

If granted, the writ would require state agencies affected by two of the item vetoes to carry out the legislature's intent, vetoes notwithstanding. Hall said the case would decide as well whether five additional vetoes applied by Rhodes in the same bill will be allowed to stand.

The OEA, along with majority Democrats in the Senate and House, claim Rhodes acted illegally because his authority to use the item veto is restricted to appropriations bills.

Vetoes provisions in the court case would set up a pilot urban education project to develop programs for disadvantaged youngsters, and require the listing of taxpayers' resident school districts on their state income tax returns.

Hall said the writ of mandamus would mandate that the superintendent of public instruction and the Department of Taxation, respectively, go ahead with implementing of the legislation.

He said those two provisions were chosen because they were "the simplest" on the list, making an early decision by the court more likely.

Two of the other vetoed provisions are technical in nature, while the others increase minimum salaries, require school districts to return savings in state aid to the state, and decrease the present 28.5-1 pupil teacher ratio to 25-1 by the end of the current biennium.

The Senate, with enough Democrats to override the Republican governor, did so along party lines Sept. 11, but the House, one Democrat short of being veto proof, deferred to the OEA's pending court test.

Anticipating possible defeat in the supreme court, which is 5-2 Republican, Hall said the OEA may file a subsequent action in Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

It would seek a declaratory judgment declaring Rhodes' vetoes not valid. Hall said it would accomplish the same and being sought in the Supreme Court action filed by the OEA last Tuesday.

Ohio jobless claims drop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Continuing unemployment benefits under state and federal programs dropped for the 10th consecutive week, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services said Thursday.

For the week ended Sept. 13, 147,321 persons received benefits for one week or more under regular programs, compared to the previous week's total of 147,716 and the average recipients in September 1974 of 55,395.

The bureau estimated that the claims would continue to drop to 140,500 for the week ended Sept. 20.

But initial claims were up for the week ended Sept. 20 to 17,148, almost twice the 9,936 average for September 1974. In the previous week, there were 16,553 applicants.

The rise in new claims came in the 80 smaller counties where 9,048 persons made applications. The drop in continued claims was in the eight largest counties where more than 1,200 persons exhausted benefits or dropped from the rolls.

Claims under the extended state and federal programs, federal supplemental benefit and additional federal supplemental benefit programs remained steady.

CAREER SALES OPPORTUNITY

Would you like to earn $10,000 to $25,000 a year (and more) as a salesman? You can do it here in your own hometown. No overnight travel is required. We offer a comprehensive three year training program. You will receive excellent fringe benefits. There is an opportunity for rapid advancement.

Of the 20 individuals in sales positions in our various Ohio offices for two or more years, 8 earn in excess of $25,000 a year and 9 others earn between $10,000 and $25,000 a year. In recent years our top salespersons and their spouses have qualified for all expenses paid meetings in Caracas, Venezuela; Honolulu, Hawaii, the Costa del Sol, Spain; Rome, Italy; and Acapulco, Mexico.

We pay a starting income of up to $1,000 a month. A bonus plan makes it possible to earn in excess of $18,000 in your first year and in excess of $25,000 in the second year. We can prove this has been done. After the initial three year training period, our men and women are self-employed and completely independent.

A sales background and a college degree are desirable, but certainly not essential. Twelve of our salespersons are college graduates of whom 6 have Master's degrees. Others are high school graduates. We have successful individuals under 30 years of age. Other successful persons in our organization are grandparents.

We have no particular requirements — we are looking for honest, hard-working men and women who meet people well and who will work very hard and follow our proved sales system exactly.

Take five minutes to investigate this challenging and rewarding career with a 65-year-old organization. Call our central office in Columbus (614) 224-1291 on Friday, September 26, between 4:00 and 7:00 p.m. and on Saturday morning, September 27, between 9:00 and 12:00 and ask for Mr. Richard Tice.

Educators hear Cincinnati bishop

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Roman Catholic Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin told 15,000 Catholic educators that their "best contribution" to the nation's bicentennial "will be to maintain a strong alternative educational system, one which ensures freedom of choice for our parents and children."

Atlanta, Ga. Mayor Maynard Jackson, was scheduled to address the Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia convention of the Catholic Education Association today.

Archbishop Bernardin said it was important for parochial schools not only to teach what freedom is but also to teach the Judeo-Christian concept of freedom.

"Today when many people speak of freedom they often confuse the word with permissiveness," Bernardin said, mentioning euthanasia, sexual freedom and abortion.

"All these things and many more are demanded in the name of freedom. But instead of freeing people, these aberrations make slaves of them. They become, as Jesus told us, the slaves of sin."

"Instead of experiencing that freedom which liberates a person's spirit and makes it possible for him to find his highest fulfillment in the friendship and love of the Lord, they are placing themselves in a trap which can lead only to frustration, disillusionment and despair."

The archbishop said Catholic schools must prepare students to understand freedom and to use it in "an imaginative and constructive way."

Charles Silberman, author and educator, told the convention that American schools are gaining the happiness and freedom which lets children educate themselves in open classrooms.

Open education is not an undisciplined style of learning, said Silberman, author of "Crisis in the Classroom."

"Open education advocates say the purpose of education is to educate men and women who can educate themselves," he said.

"A change for the better seems to be taking place. I am more hopeful than I was five years ago when the kind of teaching I like could only be found here and there."

PERFORMANCE SLATED — Jeannette Junk as Clarissa, and Michael Ballam as her lover, Ecclitico, will appear in the Indiana University Opera Theatre production of Haydn's "The World on the Moon," which will be presented Tuesday at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington D.C.

Comic opera performance eyed by Jeannette Junk

Soprano Jeannette Junk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Junk, 107 E. Circle Ave., will sing the role of "Clarissa" in Josef's Haydn's comic opera, "The World on the Moon," to be presented by the Indiana University Opera Theater Tuesday at the J.F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington D.C. as a major event of the capitol's two-week International Haydn Festival.

Also appearing in concert at the "Haydnfest" will be such renowned groups as the Philadelphia Orchestra, the National and Pittsburgh Symphonies, the Pittsburgh Chamber Symphony, the Monteverdi Choir of Hamburg, Germany, the Curtis Institute Orchestra, the Julliard and New Hungarian String Quartets, and several prominent soloists. Eminent musicologists from all over the world will take part in the concurrent conference on Haydn's works.

"The World on the Moon," written in 1777 in honor of the marriage of Haydn's patron, Prince Esterhazy's son Nicolas, was presented as the opening performance of the Indiana University Opera Theater's 22-week opera season September 20. Performances will continue Saturdays through October 11. The entire production is designed by Max Roethlisberger with Tibor Kozma as conductor and Ross Allen as stage director.

The Indiana University Opera Theater is an integral performing organization of the Indiana University School of Music, selected by a survey of music educators conducted by Change Magazine as the nation's number one music school. The Opera Theater has received acclaim from music critics of such publications as the Washington Post, the New York Times, the Chicago Tribune, and Opera News Magazine. In 1972 after the official opening of the 20-million-dollar Musical Arts Center, Time Magazine noted that the Indiana University Opera "compares with its nearest rivals like a 747 with piper cubs."

Hydrant flush hurts hospital

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Routine flushing of fire hydrants Wednesday caused water pressure to drop at Mansfield General Hospital, finally leaving the facility without water for several hours.

Because of low pressure, flush toilets remained open with water running continually into the hospital's internal sewers, eventually backing water and sewage in basement storage areas.

Finally, the hospital turned off the water. It was turned back on later in the day. Personnel are still checking for water damage, said Bruce Smith, assistant hospital administrator, said.

Haise to guest at Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Apollo 13 astronaut Fred Haise will be a guest at the bicentennial salute Oct. 4 at Mansfield Lahn Airport.

Haise was a member of the 179th Tactical Fighter Group of Ohio Air National Guard 1960-63, while working for NASA as a test pilot in Cleveland.

SCOL opens full grid slate

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

A full slate of action will highlight the real opening of South Central Ohio League play tonight as the eight loop teams pair off on the gridiron.

Washington C.H. and Greenfield McClain have already tucked league wins under their belts at the expense of Madison Plains, the newest addition to the SCOL.

The three unbeaten league teams are expected to have rather easy times tonight with Circleville playing winless

Madison Plains, Miami Trace taking on Unio and Washington C.H. facing Hillsboro.

The Greenfield-Wilmington game promises to be the most evenly matched contest of the night.

A brief rundown on tonight's games follows:

CIRCLEVILLE AT MADISON PLAINS

The second-ranked Class 'AA' team in Ohio shouldn't lose any ground in next week's Associated Press poll after the sports writers read the result of tonight's game with the Golden Eagles.

Even though Circleville managed only two touchdowns in each of its three previous games, the Tigers should run around, over and through the Plain's defense that has given up 83 points so far this season.

The Tiger defense should have less trouble than the offense. The Eagles haven't scored a point all season either.

All-leaguer Biff Bumgarner is getting closer to all-Ohio honors everytime he touches the ball. He has rushed for over 100 yards in the Tigers previous three games and he has scored five of the Tiger's six touchdowns.

This contest should be a laughter with Circleville getting all the chuckles unless Bumgarner breaks his leg. Then, the Eagles may stay within two or three touchdowns.

GREENFIELD AT WILMINGTON

Greenfield has turned into a team to be reckoned with after countless losing seasons and Wilmington is fresh from a 20-6 upset of Cincinnati Purcell setting up what should prove to be the closest contest in the league this week.

Greenfield has an explosive offense led by running back Tony Anderson, who shares the league scoring lead with Washington's Mark Fisher.

Wilmington will counter with big, fullback Russ Crosthwaite and 'Mr. Do-It-All' Gary Williams, who is just a sophomore. He has run back two interceptions for touchdowns, scored from the halfback spot on offense and kicked a 30-yard field goal so far this year.

Both teams are 2-1 for the season with the Tigers only loss coming at Springfield Shawnee and the Hurricane setback coming at the hands of Xenia in the season opener.

The winner of this matchup would loom as a serious league title contender.

HILLSBORO AT WASHINGTON C.H.

The Indians are always keyed up for the annual grudge match with the Blue Lions, and this year coach Mike Doyle will have more talent than usual to throw into the game.

Both teams will be without key defensive personnel as Steve Zink, an honorable mention all-league choice at tackle last year, joins the Lion's Doug McCune on the sidelines with season ending knee injuries.

The Blue Lions will have to stop the running of Steve Kelch and Ken Captain, and both Indian backs have had 100-yard plus games this year. They may have trouble reaching that mark this week as the Blue Lion defense has allowed only 174 yards on the ground in three games.

Tailbacks Mark Fisher and Jeff Elliott should again see most of the running plays action, but Blue Lion quarterback Greg Marti may get the okay to fill the air with footballs against a Hillsboro secondary that ranks last in the league on pass defense.

It could be a closer contest than past Hillsboro-Washington C.H. encounters — due more to the improvement of the

MIAMI TRACE AT UNIO

The Panthers have run up over 1,000 yards in just three games this season and its doubtful that the Unio defense is going to bring down the Miami Trace average.

The Shermans will be outmanned on both the offensive and defensive line, but their backfield is big and experienced with senior running backs Dave Anders, Bob Matson and Roger Rutherford all capable of getting yardage of their own with or without blocks.

However, the Panthers are used to big running backs and Greenon's Marty Minna and Jackson's David P. Davis had little success in the rushing department against a solid defense led by senior Greg Cobb.

The Miami Trace offense will be led by sophomore quarterback Art Schlichter and he will be working against the same rare 4-4 defense that he plays in when the Panthers don't have the ball.

Miami Trace beat the Shermans 16-3 last season, but tonight the Panthers should widen the margin and come home with a 4-0 record.

INJURED LION — Senior Doug McCune relaxes in his bed at Riverside Hospital in Columbus earlier this week following surgery on his left knee. He was injured in Friday's win over Westerville North. There was no cartilage damage, but the ligaments were severed in his knee. The Washington C.H. griddier returned home Wednesday and he is expected to attend tonight's contest with Hillsboro. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland McCune, Staunton-Sugar Grove Rd.

Orioles, Bosox look for clear weather

AL East front-runners winding up

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The two front-runners head into the home stretch of the American League East race tonight, hoping for a clear track and no rain.

Scratched by bad weather for most of this week, both the Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles are scheduled for twilight doubleheaders as they start the last weekend of the regular season.

The Orioles, rained out of a doubleheader Thursday night with Detroit, will play two games with the New York Yankees at Shea Stadium. The Red Sox, washed out of Thursday night's game with Cleveland, will host the Indians in a pair at Fenway Park.

Boston, with a 3 1/2-game lead over Baltimore, has a magic number of four to clinch the last playoff spot in baseball. But if nothing is decided by Sunday, both teams have a list of possible makeup games for next week.

"I have a hunch the race will end by Sunday," said Alvin Dark, whose Oakland A's have clinched the American League West. "I anticipate playing Boston. I don't disrespect Baltimore. But with all those doubleheaders and games to be made up, things are going against them. It means they could be forced to use their fifth and sixth starters in some of the games — and that's a difficult situation."

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver doesn't quite agree, although he admits the situation is a bit tenuous for the Orioles.

"It looks like Monday's game could come into focus," said Weaver, who would probably be forced to start a rookie if the Orioles have to play the Chicago White Sox in a makeup game.

The White Sox walloped the A's 8-2 and the Minnesota Twins trimmed the Kansas City Royals 5-2 in the only American League games Thursday night. In the National League, the San Diego Padres beat the San Francisco

White Sox 8, A's 2

Wilbur Wood pitched a fivehitter against a second-line squad of Oakland players, leading Chicago's victory over the West Division champions. Wood, 16-20, was backed by a 13-hit attack which included three hits by Jerry Hairston, giving the outfielder seven hits in two games.

Twins 5, Royals 2

Craig Kusick hit a home run and a single and scored twice, leading Minnesota past Kansas City. Kusick's homer, his sixth of the season, led off the fourth inning and came off Paul Splittorff, 9-10.

Padres 6, Giants 6

Willie McCovey walloped his 22nd and 23rd home runs of the season and drove in three runs and Dave Winfield hit his 15th, leading San Diego over San Francisco. The victory sealed fourth place in the National League West for the Padres.

Lion golfers lose to Circleville

Circleville breezed to an easy 20-stroke win Wednesday in a South Central Ohio League golf match with Washington C.H.

The Tiger golfers shot a 166 at the Washington Country Club course to hand the Blue Lions their seventh defeat in eight outings.

Ken Sanders was medalist for the day shooting a 40 while leading the Tigers to victory.

John Moore was low man for Washington C.H. with a 44 while Scott Lewis carded a 46. Scott Sefton and Greg Tillett followed with a 47 and 49 respectively for the Blue Lions.

The loss left Washington C.H. 0-6 in the league.

The Court House reserves won their match over Greenfield Thursday at Buckeye Hills Country Club.

Greg Tillett was medalist in the match with a 48 as the Blue Lions took a 211-222 victory. Willie Hatfield shot a 52, John Walker carded a 54 and Scott Douglas finished with a 57 to round out the reserves' scores.

Texas Tech at night, No. 7 Notre Dame vs. Northwestern, No. 8 Texas A&M vs. Illinois, and No. 9 Michigan vs. Baylor.

UCLA, the last member of the top 10, will be at the Air Force Academy.

Among the second 10, it will be No. 11 Alabama at Vanderbilt, No. 12 Penn State at Iowa, Brigham Young at No. 13 Arizona State in a night game, Boston College at No. 14 West Virginia and No. 15 Arizona at Wyoming. Also, Auburn at No. 16 Tennessee, North Texas State at No. 17 Oklahoma State, San Jose State at No. 18 Stanford, No. 19 Florida vs. Mississippi State at Jackson, Miss., and No. 20 Maryland at Kentucky.

Middle Schoolers win grid match

A touchdown with just seven seconds left in the game put the icing on Washington C.H. Junior High School's football victory over Hillsboro Thursday at Gardner Park.

The Court House gridders scored once in the first quarter and held on behind a strong defensive performance for a 16-0 win.

Tom Shields scored the Middle Schoolers first touchdown on a 21-yard run and John Belles ran for the two-point conversion.

Donald Everhart scored the other touchdown in the final seconds of the game on an eight-yard run. Shields threw for the conversion connecting with Jim Bennett for two points.

"The whole defensive team had a good ball game against a big, well coached and fast Hillsboro team," coach Rodger Mickle said.

The Court House offense rushed for 144 yards and went four for four in the air for 33 yards.

It was the season opener for Mickle's junior high squad and the next game is slated for next Thursday at Unio.

The Middle School Seventh Graders opened their grid season against Greenfield Tuesday and dropped the contest 12-0. Their next game is slated for Tuesday at home against Circleville.

Three options face players

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer
National Football League players, overwhelmingly rejecting management's latest contract offer, now have three options: they can return to the bargaining table, continue to play without a contract or strike for the third time in 14 months.

Each of the possibilities, however, presents a danger.
If they return to the bargaining table, it is reliably reported that the owners would come back with a less inviting offer than the one now before the players.

If they continue playing without a contract, there is danger of a further split among the players and clubs, with the possibility of the pension plan going broke.

And if they strike again, they will further alienate the fans who voiced their disagreement at the previous walkouts and they'll lose 1-14th of their salaries for each missed game.

Despite these obvious dangers, the players' dissatisfaction with management's offer is mounting rapidly.

Of the league's 26 teams, 16 have voted to reject the new contract, only one has voted to accept it and the other nine have either not voted or not announced their votes.

Through Thursday night, the total vote count against the offer was 470-75. Fourteen teams voted for rejection Thursday.

They included New England, 47-0; San Francisco, Washington, Oakland, Kansas City and New Orleans, each 43-0; Chicago, 41-0; Miami, 30-5; Cleveland, 30-11; Philadelphia, 24-18, and Detroit, 27-15.

Green Bay, Atlanta and St. Louis also voted against it, but did not reveal their exact vote counts.

Previously, Buffalo and Houston each had voted 43-0 to reject the offer.

Still to be counted were Dallas, Minnesota, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Denver, San Diego and the two New York teams — the Jets and Giants. However, it was learned that Los Angeles had voted for rejection, although player representative Jack Youngblood declined to disclose the results.

Only Cincinnati voted to accept, 26-13.

The vote against the contract was not a vote to strike. That must be done in a separate ballot. So far, none of the teams has announced plans for a strike vote and all are expected to play their games this weekend.

But unhappiness with management's latest offer, a four-year proposal, continued to grow.

Punt, pass, kick deadline nears

Saturday is the final day for youngsters in Fayette County to register for the local Punt, Pass, and Kick competition.

Local competition will be held at Gardner Park Stadium Sunday and interested youths between the ages of eight and 13 can register at Carroll Halliday Ford.

There is no entry fee or charge of any kind, and that goes for all six levels of competition, up to and including the national finals.

Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place finishers in the local competition at each of the six age groups. There is no body contact, and an entrant's size is not as important as his ability to punt, pass and place kick for distance with accuracy.

Local winners can continue on up through the zone, district, area and division contests to the national finals to be held in Miami this January at halftime of the Super Bowl.

Each entrant will receive a free "tips book" containing pointers from the pros on punting, passing and kicking. In this year's edition NFL stars Ray Guy, Ken Anderson and Chester Marcol give helpful suggestions.

Biofeedback-Voluntary Control

I'm constantly reading about the new science of biofeedback. Why is there so much excitement about it as a form of medical treatment?

Mr. B.T., Tex.

Dear Mr. T.:

There is great interest in the new science known as biofeedback.

Its early promises now seem to be opening broad areas of research in the control of body function.

For centuries it has been known that the yogi was able to control the depth of his respiration, the rate of his heart beat and even the degree of perspiration, by an unexplained control over his involuntary nervous system.

A highly specialized autonomic nervous system is a division of the general nervous system of the body. Unlike the rest of our nervous system, the autonomic subdivision is involved in the involuntary control of body functions.

Biofeedback is, in essence, a method by which the involuntary control can be placed under voluntary control.

By studying brain waves and altering some of them, it is felt that biofeedback may be valuable for the control of anxiety, deep-seated fears, drug abuse and alcoholism.

Some enthusiasts even feel that insomnia, headaches, high blood pressure and social adjustment to society may be affected by biofeedback training.

At the Morton Prince Center for Hypnotherapy, in New York City, biofeedback is being used to break the habit of smoking and to modify behavior in people who are markedly overweight.

Dr. Milton V. Kline, Director of the Morton Prince Center, believes that within the framework of the newer studies in biofeedback there lies an enormous potential for controlling psychological problems that resist other methods of treatment.

Do the adenoids tend to disappear as the child grows older?

Mrs. H.D., Wisc.

Dear Mrs. D.:

Usually, past puberty, the adenoids tend to become smaller.

It is relatively rare for teenagers and young adults to have persistent and bothersome adenoids, even if the tonsils still do present a problem.

Surgery, therefore, in this age group is directed only to the removal of tonsils if repeated sore throats occur.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Life, death questions raised

Editor's Note: The case of Karen Quinlan, the young New Jersey girl in a coma whose parents want to let her die, has raised once again the difficult moral and medical question of how to define life. The following presents one view of the awesome problem.

By LESLIE BENNETTS
The Philadelphia Bulletin
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Except for the bed, it is a normal living room, cluttered with the usual cheerful family array of photographs, children's drawings, mementos. It is hard to walk around, however; most of the cramped space is occupied by the giant chrome surgical bed that glitters so coldly in the afternoon light.

A human being is lying on the bed. She cannot move, cannot speak; no one knows whether she feels or thinks. Her limbs, once young and strong, are twisted and crippled from disuse; they twitch meaninglessly on the sheets. She is 17 years old.

Elsewhere, over in New Jersey, a legal and medical controversy swirls heatedly around the case of Karen Quinlan, a young woman suspended in a mysterious coma whose parents want to terminate the extraordinary measures keeping her alive.

Here in Northeast Philadelphia lies what is left of another young woman named Karen. These parents lost the girl they knew to massive brain damage long ago. She did not die, however; space-age medical technology kept her body going.

In July of 1973, 15-year-old Karen Vikingstad seemed to have a promising future ahead; she was an A student in accelerated courses. She swam, ran track, was talented in art, on the piano, and on her beloved flute. She was robustly healthy. Unit that morning when her brother's clock radio sounded, and Karen called out for someone to turn it off. Moments later she was choking, her tongue hanging out, eyes rolling in their sockets.

No one knows what happened or why. By the time Karen was rushed to the hospital, her brain had been deprived of oxygen for so long it was damaged beyond repair.

"Her heart stopped once or twice more that evening, and they had her hooked up to every possible machine to keep her body functioning," says Mrs. Vikingstad. "But they knew then what severe brain damage there had been. Wasn't that the time to come and say to us: 'I'm sorry, your daughter is dead?' I know it's not an easy question for them, either, but someone had better look into what happens afterward to the lives they're saving by their heroic measures."

Her eyes are desperate as she gestures toward her insensate daughter. "She's had over two years now of what they call life — but that's not life."

Mrs. Vikingstad has given up hope for her daughter. She is enraged over opinions put forth in the debate over Karen Quinlan.

"If I had known two years ago what I know now, I would have pulled every one of those plugs that kept my daughter alive. I wish I had the courage, but I didn't, and what can I do now? Can I stop pouring the food into the tube in her stomach and let her slowly starve to death? I can't do that...."

Woman donates art to Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Five and one-half years ago, Mrs. Harry Lynde Bradley offered Milwaukee a deal: Provide suitable quarters for her $11 million art collection and the community could have it as a gift.

The deal was completed this week, and amid festivities that ranged from symposiums on the future of art in the Midwest to polka and jazz concerts, the Milwaukee Art Center opened a three-level, 150,000-square-foot addition on the shore of Lake Michigan.

Most of the 800-piece collection is housed there, being displayed as a group for the first time. There are Picassos, Klees, Bonnards, Chagalls and Toulouse-Lautrecs, amid paintings and sculpture by contemporary artists purchased as recently as three weeks ago.

Bidding Quiz

You are South and have the following hand, both sides vulnerable:

♠ 10 ♥ AKQ93 ♦ AK8 ♣ AKJ4

1. The bidding has gone:

South	West	North	East
2♥	Pass	2NT	Pass
3♣	Pass	3♥	Pass

What would you bid now?

2. The bidding has gone:

South	West	North	East
2♥	Pass	2♠	Pass
3♣	Pass	3♠	Pass

What would you bid now?

3. The bidding has gone:

East	South	West	North
3♠	Dble	Pass	4♥

What would you bid now?

1. Four diamonds. You might feel tempted to simply bid four hearts, because partner may have an awful hand on his bidding to date. However, it costs you nothing to make a slam try by bidding four diamonds. North does not need much for twelve tricks to materialize. Thus, he might have as little as in which case you'd surely want to be in six.

2. Three notrump. It is true that North made an affirmative response by bidding two spades and he probably has 8 or more high-card points. However, the fact that partner has lots of spades doesn't raise your values at all, and, indeed, your hand is greatly reduced in value by this unwelcome news. You therefore try to slow partner down by bidding three notrump, which is not forcing.

North may still go on to a slam — he could have a very good all-around hand and be bidding his time — but there's nothing more you can do at this point except bid three notrump.

3. Pass. The purpose of East's preemptive bid is to make things tough for you, and he certainly has succeeded here with his opening three spade bid. There are three main actions you can consider under the circumstances, and any of them could prove to be right or wrong. One is to pass, which is admittedly conservative. Another is to bid four spades, thus inviting partner to bid a slam. The third possibility is to raise four hearts to five. There is no clear-cut answer!

Early childhood development eyed

An early childhood development center, designed to prepare children ages 2½ to 5 for kindergarten in public schools, is scheduled to open in Washington C.H. next month.

The childhood development center will be held in a home which is presently vacant at 927 Briar Avenue from 8:45 until 11:45 a.m. Monday through Friday during the school year.

Mrs. Warren Monday, of Lakewood Hills, is sponsoring the school and will be serving as the center's director.

Mrs. Monday said the early childhood development center to be known as "The Learning Tree" will open Oct. 6.

The enrollment, according to Mrs. Monday, will be limited to 17 children. Seven children are presently enrolled and the parents of several more have expressed an interest.

The cost is $42 per month, plus a nominal insurance fee, Mrs. Monday said.

Curriculum will include social skills, personal care, physical development, responsibility, discipline, art, music, Spanish, geography, science, pre-number skills, pre-reading skills, pre-writing skills, nature study and foreign culture.

While the school is designed to prepare students for kindergarten classes, Mrs. Monday said, "The children actually teach and discipline themselves" under the program's concepts.

She said the program also "smoothes the transition for reading and writing" for pre-school youngsters.

Mrs. Monday and her husband, Warren, a controller at the Redman Industries, Inc., plant in the city's industrial park, moved to Washington C.H. in July from Ephrata.

Pistol match slated Sunday

The last monthly pistol match at the Fayette County Fish and Game Association range on Stafford Road will be held beginning at 12 noon Sunday.

Fish and Game Association officials said a good turnout is assured since a number of regular shooters will be participating.

Cash prizes will be awarded and all competition will be from a distance of 25 yards.

Pa. Mrs. Monday holds a master's degree in Spanish and taught the foreign language on a part-time basis at the University of Toledo. She also was a Spanish teacher in Toledo area high schools for several years.

Mrs. Monday was an art and Spanish instructor in a private, accredited Montessori school in Reading, Pa. before relocating in Washington C.H. The school in which Mrs. Monday taught in Pennsylvania was similar to the pre-school program which is being established here.

The program will continue throughout the present school year and Mrs. Monday said she hopes a summer physical educational program can be established.

Persons interested in enrolling their children may contact Mrs. David McMillan (335-2782), the school's registrar. Further information about the program can be obtained from Mrs. Monday at 335-0102.

Conspiracy to murder trial held

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — A Lorain detective testified Thursday that he saw Dr. George P. Gotsis give money to a taxi driver and heard the doctor say "I don't care" when the driver asked him how Gotsis wanted another doctor killed.

Gotsis, a Lorain physician, is on trial in Lorain County Common Pleas Court here on a charge of conspiracy to commit aggravated murder. The prosecution is trying to prove that the doctor paid the taxi driver to procure someone to kill Dr. Denis A. Radefeld.

Radefeld is the chief of staff at Lorain Community Hospital and headed a committee that was instrumental in taking away Gotsis' right to practice in the hospital.

The taxi driver, George Abraham, is alleged to have been paid $503 by Gotsis to find persons to kill Dr. Radefeld. Police say Abraham reported the alleged murder plot to them and they then tried to overhear conversations between the two.

Sgt. Lee Matuszak, the detective, testified that on April 18 he and another policeman were in an abandoned gasoline station that serves as a cab stand and observed a meeting between Gotsis and Abraham.

The detective said he saw Gotsis give Abraham a "wad of money." Matuszak said he heard Abraham say, "How do you want Dr. Radefeld killed?" and that he heard Gotsis reply, "I don't care."

The prosecution also played a tape recording of a telephone conversation between Abraham and the doctor. "Still want to do it?" Abraham asked in the recording. "Yes," the doctor replied.

It was during this conversation that the taxi driver and Gotsis made an appointment to meet at the cab stand, the conversation on the recording revealed.

The common dormouse spends more time in hibernation than any other mammal. The hibernation usually lasts between five and six months (October to April), but the record goes to an English specimen sleeping six months 23 days, with interruption.

SOARING INTO SKY — The Huntington Banks hot air balloon soars into the skies during a test flight while spectators dream of what it would be like to float along quietly and pleasantly with the breeze.

Hot air balloon ascension slated

The 80-foot Huntington Bank hot air balloon, which ascended from the Fayette County Fair this summer, will be one of the featured attractions at the second annual Washington C.H. Offsides benefit football game Saturday, Oct. 4.

The giant red, white and blue hot air balloon, complete with pilot, gondola and gas burners, will ascend from Gardner Park Stadium on W. Circle Avenue at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 4.

Community Education program director Hank Shaffer said it is hoped the balloon will be able to travel in an easterly direction in order to pass over the route of the pre-game parade.

The benefit game between the Offsides and Paint Creek No-Stars will be played at 8 p.m. All proceeds from the game will be used for the operation of the Community Education program in Washington C.H.

The Huntington Bank of Washington C.H. and affiliated banks in 12 other Ohio cities have joined in creating the hot air balloon and sponsoring its tour throughout the state.

Piloting the balloon will be 29-year-old Dan Stone, a professional airplane pilot, skydiver and balloonist. Stone has piloted more than 250 balloon flights including the popular balloon ascensions at Kings Island amusement park near Cincinnati.

The balloon operates on the basic premise that hot air is lighter than cool air, and a bag filled with the hot air will rise.

Air is heated in the nylon balloon by two gas burners positioned at the mouth of the balloon and operated by the pilot in the gondola. Heating the air causes the balloon to ascend. When the burners are turned off, the air cools and the balloon slowly descends.

The pilot has no control over lateral movements. This depends solely on winds. A five mile per hour southerly wind, for example, will carry the balloon south at five miles per hour.

Instrumentation inside the gondola includes an altimeter, a variometer, which gives ascent and descent rates, and a temperature gauge which provides a reading of air temperature within the nylon balloon.

Hot air ballooning got its start in France in 1783. The Montgolfier brother, French paper makers, are credited with discovering the principle of hot air ballooning and building the first balloon to carry passengers, a sheep, a duck and a rooster.

Shapp seeks campaign funding

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp said Thursday that voters aren't looking for charisma in presidential candidates, but knowledge of economic problems.

Shapp, who Wednesday announced he was running for the Democratic party presidential nomination, was here to meet old friends and raise support for his campaign.

"I challenge anyone in the Ford administration to debate me on monetary policy," he said, adding that familiarity with economic issues will appeal to voters more than the candidate's image.

"None of the other candidates have an understanding of what the problems really are," he said. "What the voters are looking for is someone who will say, 'Look, I understand what the problems are and here's what I'll do for you.'"

He said that although he is well known in the East, "I've got a lot of work to do in the Midwest and other parts of the country."

Irate motorists attack caboose

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP) — A railroad flagman told police five or six irate motorists tried to break into his caboose Wednesday night after the train blocked a crossing for one hour and 20 minutes.

The unidentified flagman said the motorists also began yelling and throwing stones. No injuries were reported.

Liquor prices to increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Retail liquor prices will go up an average of five cents a fifth in Ohio's state liquor stores Nov. 1.

Liquor Director Clifford Reich announced the increase Thursday, a few hours after the Governor's Cost Control suggested a 10 cent a bottle hike.

Reich said he felt that large of an increase would be too much to make Ohio competitive with surrounding states. He agreed with the council an increase was needed.

Reich said the increase, which will amount to no more than 10 cents on a half-gallon, should bring in about $3 million additional a year.

The council had estimated that its suggested increase would bring in around $6.7 million.

Reich said two other council proposals had already been put into effect.

He said the Department of Liquor

Control has already scrapped the use of electronic cash registers with data transmission and recording devices in selected stores.

The department has already begun elimination of nonselling brands of liquor. The council said 25 per cent of the brands could be eliminated, and the estimated $2 million could be used to buy sellers.

As for the price increase, Reich said it was the first involving the state's share of liquor money since 1969 although distillers were granted a raise last month.

The council said increased costs have steadily eroded the state's profits from liquor sales over the past five years.
